Public Review

Spanish I: Beginning Spanish language and Culture is an excellent digitally-free alternative to the high-priced college Spanish textbook and, being an open-access textbook, it affords instructors flexibility and versatility. It offers a comprehensive introduction to the study of the Spanish language as it affords students a solid foundation by guiding them through the learning process in a non-intimidating way. The explanations of the inner-workings of the language are clear and to the point, being very evident that the author never loses sight that the intended audience are learners at a beginning level with no or very little previous experience with the language. The presentation of grammatical points and vocabulary are short, well-paced, and followed by individual practice at home and interpersonal practice in class. These activities are well thought out and effective as to consolidate knowledge and use, both of which are recycled throughout the sections and chapters as students advance.

This textbook follows the ‘flipped classroom’ approach. In this teaching/learning model, students gain first-exposure to new material outside of class (“Para estudiar en casa” and “Para practicar en casa” sections in the textbook) and then use class time to practice what they have learned by “using” the language to communicate with their peers (“Para practicar en clase” section in the textbook and capstone task at the end of each chapter). This approach allows for students to take more control over their learning process and the progress they are making.

The textbook structure supports the flipped classroom methodology as follows:

- a. All five chapter have the same structure, with the same amount of sections, therefore students become familiar with the organization of the text and learn how to use it quickly and effectively.
- b. At the beginning of every chapter the learning objectives for the whole chapter are clearly stated; then, every section is preceded by the specific learning objective(s) tackled in that section. Therefore, students know exactly what they are expected to achieve, and can gage for themselves if they have.
- c. All the sections within the chapters Include pertinent and succinct introductions, preparing the student to what is going to be presented. At the same time, these introductions establish a sense of progression, linking what is coming up with what has already been learnt.

To Instructors and Students

Spanish I: Beginning Spanish Language and Culture was conceived to offset some of the financial burdens that community college and university students face today. This digitally-free alternative to the high-priced college Spanish textbooks contains solid explanations and varied practice of vocabulary, grammar, and culture topics. It can be adopted and used digitally without cost to the student or the instructor. This text is also available cheaply for print-on-demand through Amazon.

This textbook contains themed chapters, which are divided into 8 sections. Each section has its own set of learning objectives, and is further separated into three types of assignments, Para estudiar en casa (with detailed explanations), Para practicar en casa (homework exercises), and Para practicar en clase (paired and group classwork activities). The explanations and primary input are written to be easily comprehensible. The individual exercises are geared towards acquisition of form and function, and the communicative classwork exercises promote interpersonal exchanges between students. The digital copy includes some embedded audio files, and we are developing a website to house many more resources.

This textbook is published with specific Creative Commons Copyrights that permit the modification (remix, tweak, and build upon) of any and all parts of this text, provided that there is attribution to the author. It has already been used successfully for online and face-to-face classes. It is expected that each instructor will utilize this text to best fit their unique teaching style. This textbook is designed to be adaptable; it has an internal modular structure that allows instructors or students to easily link related topics. For example, each chapter has a section on pronunciation and those sections could be combined to create a module that would be useful for any level of Spanish. Further, instructors may elect to skip over certain materials, simply because there is more than can be effectively covered in one semester.

Introduction:

Welcome to Beginning Spanish Language and Culture (SPAN 105) at HSU! This course is designed for the true beginner. As such, we will be covering the absolute basics of Spanish a language and culture. Today we will learn about the structure of this textbook, practice some set phrases to get you started speaking Spanish right away, and learn some important vocabulary and phrases to use throughout the semester.

1.1.a. To learn about the organization of this book

This text has been developed as an Open Educational Resource (OER) by the Spanish Program at Humboldt State University. We have identified specific goals for this course and, by following this textbook, you will successfully acquire the skills and knowledge needed to pass this course. Although individual instructors will personalize the content of each class session by choosing to substitute, modify, or eliminate certain activities, this book is designed as a day-to-day outline for the entire semester.

There are five chapters in this textbook and each chapter is separated into eight sections. The eight sections of each chapter are labeled in the following manner:

1.1 means chapter 1, section 1

Each section is divided into three parts: "For Study at Home," "For Practice at Home," and "For Practice in Class." Section headers look like this:

Para estudiar en casa

Para practicar en casa

Para practicar en clase

Before each class, students are expected to complete the homework in order to be fully prepared to participate. Homework is comprised of the first two parts (Para estudiar en casa AND Para practicar en casa). New content is presented in Para estudiar en casa and initial exercises are contained in Para practicar en casa. Most class time will be dedicated to the exercises in Para practicar en clase. Class time will be used for practice, not new content presentation.

Each section has its own set of Learning Objectives, which appear at the beginning of each part (Para estudiar en casa, Para practicar en casa, and Para Practicar en clase). There may be two to four Learning Objectives for each section and each one is labeled with a letter. These Learning Objectives are also listed in the Table of Contents at the beginning of the book.

In the Para estudiar en casa section, each Learning Objective will be addressed separately as new content is presented. For example, right now, you are below a heading that looks like this:

1.1.a. To learn about the organization of this book

Now that you know about the organization of this book, we will proceed to the next learning objective for 1.1.

1.1.b. ¡A conocernos!

¡A conocernos! means "let's get to know each other." Read the following model dialog between a professor and student and try to figure out what they are saying.

MODELO:

PROFESOR:	¿Cómo te llamas?
ESTUDIANTE:	Me llamo Mateo .
PROFESOR:	¿Cómo estás?
ESTUDIANTE:	Estoy bien .
PROFESOR:	¿De dónde eres?
ESTUDIANTE:	Soy de Nueva York .
PROFESOR:	¿Dónde vives?
ESTUDIANTE:	Vivo en Arcata .

Now, replace the given answers with your own.

PROFESOR:	¿Cómo te llamas?
ESTUDIANTE:	Me llamo _____.
PROFESOR:	¿Cómo estás?
ESTUDIANTE:	Estoy _____.

PROFESOR: ¿De dónde eres?
 ESTUDIANTE: Soy de _____.
 PROFESOR: ¿Dónde vives?
 ESTUDIANTE: Vivo en _____.

If you are talking about someone else, you would use different pronouns (he or she, instead of you and I) and the verb conjugations would also be different. Since the question and answer refer to the same person, the conjugation is the same in the question and the answer. Don't worry about the conjugations yet, just try to memorize these sentences as set phrases. Let's see the same dialog as before, but this time referring to someone else, another student named Mateo.

MODELO:

PROFESOR: ¿Cómo se llama?
 ESTUDIANTE: Se llama Mateo.
 PROFESOR: ¿Cómo está?
 ESTUDIANTE: Está bien.
 PROFESOR: ¿De dónde es?
 ESTUDIANTE: Es de Nueva York.
 PROFESOR: ¿Dónde vive?
 ESTUDIANTE: Vive en Arcata.

Before class, you should practice these sentences in Para practicar in casa, which will be after the next Learning Objective of 1.1 is presented.

1.1.c. To practice important words and phrases for class

Tarea (homework):

Complete 1.2 Para estudiar en casa and 1.2 Para practicar en casa.

1.2: Para estudiar en casa

1.2 Learning Objectives:

- To learn to correctly pronounce the Spanish vowels
- To learn to correctly pronounce the Spanish consonants
- To become familiar with the Spanish alphabet and phonetics

Introduction:

Pronunciation is the foundation of spoken language. Mastering pronunciation is essential to building confidence in oral communication. It is very important to practice and master each of the sounds and master their uses. If you cannot pronounce the words correctly, you will not be correctly understood. If you can pronounce the words correctly, you will be able to understand better when you hear them too.

1.2.a. To learn to correctly pronounce the Spanish vowels

In English, many letters represent several sounds. Sometimes this depends on regional dialects. Sometimes it depends on the other letters in the word. Vowels, for example, may have up to five sounds. In general, this is not the case in Spanish.

In Spanish, phonetics (sounds) is much simpler. There are five vowels: a e i o u (like English, sometimes y). Each vowel has only one sound associated with it. Sometimes vowels have a written accent above them (á é í ó ú). The written accent does not change the pronunciation of the vowel; the written accent only tells us which syllable to stress in the word.

The name of the vowel is pronounced the same and written the same as the vowel itself.

Vowel	Name of Vowel
a	a
e	e
i	i
o	o
u	u

Listen to the vowel sounds in this audio file.

a	e	i	o	u
a	e	i	o	u
a	la	casa	lápiz	a
e	le	estoy	élite	e

i	di	dice	ítem	i
o	lo	mono	ópera	o
u	tu	una	túnel	u
a	e	i	o	u
a	e	i	o	u

1.2.b. To learn to correctly pronounce the Spanish consonants

The pronunciation of Spanish consonants is much simpler than the pronunciation of English consonants. Except for dialectical differences, very few letters have more than one sound*. Most Spanish consonants sound very similar to English.

Here is a summary of consonants that are challenging or need special attention from native English speakers. Listen to the challenging consonant sounds in this audio file.

Letter	pay special attention to:	Examples
b	has the same sound as the v	tubo / tuvo
c	sounds like an English k in front of the vowels: a o u	ca co cu (que, qui)
c	sounds like an English s in front of the vowels: e i . See the footnote*	ce ci
d	sound is produced closer to the front of the mouth almost like the English th	todo / días
g	sounds like an English g in front of the vowels: a o u	ga go gu (gue, gui)
g	sounds like an English h in front of the vowels: e i	ge gi
h	is never pronounced	hola sounds like ola j	sounds like an English h	jamón / Javier
k	most words with k are from other languages	kiosko / kiwi ll	not a letter, but sounds like an English y	ella / valle
ñ	sounds like English ny	cañón
r	is rolled when it's the first letter of a word or when there are two in a row	Roberto / carro t	does not have the trill as in English tree , almost sounds like an English d	todo / tu
v	has the same sound as the b	tubo / tuvo x	sounds like an English x but sometimes like an English h	excelente / México
y	sounds like an English y as in yolk	yo / hoyo
z	mostly pronounced as an English s . See the footnote*	zapato / cabeza

*An example of dialectical differences is the letter z in some parts of Spain and most of the rest of the Spanish speaking world and the other parts of Spain. In parts of Spain, the letter z is pronounced as the th in English, but in most of the rest of the Spanish-speaking world it is pronounced as an English s. Another example is the letter c. In parts of Spain, when the letter c is in front of an e or i, it is pronounced the same as the z as described above (like th in English in parts of Spain, but like an s in most of the rest of the Spanish-speaking world).

1.2.c. To become familiar with the Spanish alphabet and phonetics

Now that you know the vowel sounds and the consonants that require special attention, here is the entire alphabet with the letter names and examples.

Letter	Letter Name	Examples
a	a	antes / adelante
b	be	benevolente / boca
c	ce	canción / excelente
d	de	durante / dinero
e	e	elefante / elegante
f	efe	fantasía / frente
g	ge	grande / geneología
h	hache	hay / hola
i	i	itinerario
j	jota	Jaime / Jorge
k	ka	kilo / kilómetro
l	ele	lección / elemental
m	eme	material / emoción
n	ene	nacional / nada
ñ	eñe	cañón / niño
o	o	otoño / octubre
p	pe	pequeño / poco
q	qu	que / quien
r	ere	caro / carro
s	ese	segundo / sección
t	te	tiempo / todo
u	u	útil / usar
v	uve (v de vaca / v chica)	voluntario / vacaciones
w	doble uve	Washington
x	equis	México / conexión
y	i griega	yo / cayó
z	zeta	zebra / zero

1.3 Learning Objectives:

- To learn expressions of greeting and leave-taking
- To understand the appropriate uses of formal and informal etiquette
- To learn the days of the week

Introduction:

Greetings and leave-takings (saying good-bye) are important every day occurrences. Therefore it is very important to become familiar with the many ways in which we greet each other and say good-bye. Many times, we greet each other with questions like: "What's up?" or "How's it goin'?" Often, we are not expecting an answer to these questions; they function as a simple "hello." Every time we speak to someone, we choose a level of formality (we speak differently with different people). This includes the words we choose and even the way that we pronounce them. Lastly, we will learn the days of the week.

1.3.a. To learn expressions of greeting and leave-taking

The following are common expressions of greetings and leave takings, along with some possible responses. Many of them are interchangeable. Study them and think about when and where you might use them. Practice saying them out loud.

ROBERTO: Encantado. Te presento a mi amigo Alejandro.

ELIZABETH: Hola. Encantada.

ALEJANDRO: Hola. Igualmente.

ELIZABETH: Hasta luego.

ALEJANDRO: Adiós.

Cultural note: In the Spanish-speaking world, it is very common to give hugs and kisses with greetings and leave-takings.

1.3.b. To understand the appropriate uses of formal and informal etiquette

In English, the subject pronoun "you" may be used as a singular "How are you?" (referring to one person) or it may be plural "How are you?" (referring to more than one person). In Spanish, there are different forms for singular and plural. In addition, there are different forms that indicate formality. The verb ESTAR means TO BE, so "how are you?" can have the several forms depending on the subject. Study the following chart and try to understand the differences.

Spanish	English	Context	How are you?
tú	you	informal (singular) with friends and peers	¿Cómo estás?
usted (Ud.)	you	formal (singular) used to show respect	¿Cómo está?
vosotros/as	you	informal & formal (plural of tú) used only in Spain	¿Cómo estáis?
ustedes	you	informal & formal (plural of usted) only Latin America	¿Cómo están?

Cultural Note: In some parts of the Spanish-speaking world, there are other pronouns to express "you", but this chart contains the most common.

When you meet people for the first time, it is best to use the formal expressions. If the situation calls for a more informal tone, someone will suggest that you "tutear." In Latin America it is more important to maintain formality, but in Spain, it is more common to be informal more quickly.

MODELO:

SEÑOR AMARO: Hola chicos, ¿Cómo estáis?
 UNO NIÑO: Muy bien. ¿Cómo está usted?
 SEÑOR AMARO: Fenomenal.

Note:

In the example above, Señor Amaro greets several children informally in Spain (using vosotros) and one of the children responds formally (using usted).

MODELO:

UN NIÑO: Hola chicos, ¿Cómo están?
 UNA NIÑA: Muy bien. ¿Cómo estás tú?
 UN NIÑO: Bien.

Note:

In the example above, one child greets several children informally in Latin America (using ustedes) and one of the children responds informally (using tú).

1.4: Para estudiar en casa

1.4 Learning Objectives:

- To learn about adjective agreement
- To learn about the subject pronouns in Spanish
- To learn to conjugate the verb SER
- To learn about cognates

Introduction:

Today we will learn how to describe people and things. To do this, we will work with adjectives. In Spanish, the adjective has to agree in gender and number with the noun that it modifies. We will learn the subject pronouns used to conjugate verbs in Spanish. We will conjugate the verb SER, which means "to be" in English. We will use the many words that you already know in Spanish, because Spanish and English have many cognates. Cognates are words that look and sound similar in two or more languages. For example, the English word "university" is similar to the Spanish word "universidad"; they sound similar and refer to the same thing.

1.4.a. To learn about adjective agreement

In Spanish, adjectives must agree with the noun in gender (masculine and feminine) and number (singular and plural). Notice how, in the chart below, the English adjective is the same for all subjects, but it is different in Spanish. The differences reflect the gender and number of the nouns they modify.

English Sentence	Spanish Sentence
He is active.	Él es activo.
She is active.	Ella es activa.
They are active. (referring to males)	Ellos son activos.
They are active. (referring to females)	Ellas son activas.

In Spanish, most adjectives have four forms:

Gender/Number	Singular	Plural
Masculine	activo	activos
Feminine	activa	activas

Here are some examples:

Él es activo.

Ella es activa.

Ellas son activas.

Ellos son activos.

Normally, we use the masculine singular form as the generic or neutral form, so, to refer to an adjective in general, it ends in an -o (i.e. activo).

Predicting gender of nouns based on the final letters of the word is not always possible. However, here are some high probability indicators:

Masculine endings	-o	taco
Feminine endings	-a, -ión, -dad, -dad	casa, educación, libertad, universidad

Some adjectives do not reflect gender. They do not end in an -o, rather an -e (i.e. inteligente) or a consonant (peculiar). Since the masculine and feminine forms are the same, they only have two forms: singular and plural.

Gender/Number	Singular	Plural
Masculine	inteligente	inteligentes
Feminine	inteligente	inteligentes

To pluralize a word that ends in a consonant, we usually add "es".

Gender/Number	Singular	Plural
Masculine	peculiar	peculiares
Feminine	peculiar	peculiares

Here are examples of these types of adjectives:

Ella es inteligente.

Él es inteligente.

Vosotras sois inteligentes.

Ellos son inteligentes.

1.4.b. To learn about the subject pronouns in Spanish

To conjugate a verb, we always have a subject in English. The subject determines the form (conjugation) of the verb. Below is a chart showing the English subject pronouns and their Spanish counterparts.

English Subject Pronoun	Spanish Subject Pronoun
I	yo
you	tú or usted*
he	él
she	ella
we	nosotros/as
you (plural)	vosotros/as (Spain) or ustedes*
they	ellos or ellas

*Refer to Section 1.3.b to review the differences between the various uses of the subject pronoun "you."

Note:

Notice how the first five pronouns are singular and the rest are plural. Also notice that there are masculine and feminine versions of "él/ella, nosotros/nosotras, vosotros/vosotras, and ellos/ellas." In Spanish, it is common to use the masculine form whenever there is at least one male in the group. A group of males would be nosotros, vosotros, or ellos; a group of females would be nosotras, vosotras, or ellas; and a mixed group would be nosotros, vosotros, or ellos.

Cultural Note:

In some places, you may see a gender-neutral version for the mixed group using the @ symbol, as in: nosotr@s or ell@s. This can also be reflected in adjectives, as in: latin@s. In English, we do the same, but use an X, as in Latinx for Latino or Latina.

1.4.c. To learn to conjugate the verb SER

To conjugate a verb, we almost always have employ a subject pronoun in English. The subject determines the form (conjugation) of the verb. Below is the English conjugation of the verb "to be."

English Subject Pronoun	English Verb Conjugation
I	am
you	are
he	is
she	is we	are you (pl.)	are they	are

Here is the equivalent conjugation in Spanish.

Spanish Subject Pronoun	Spanish Verb Conjugation
yo	soy
tú	eres
él	es
ella	es
usted	es
nosotros or nosotras	somos
vosotros or vosotras	sois
ellos or ellas	son
ustedes	son

In Spanish, we are not always required to specifically state the subject pronoun, because the verb conjugation includes that information. For example, "Soy" means "I am." It cannot refer to any other subject, so it is unnecessary to say "yo". In fact, "yo soy" would be more like saying "I, I am," emphasizing or over-emphasizing the word "I." Occasionally we want to emphasize the subject, like when we are making a comparison. For example, "she isn't, but I am." Here it would be appropriate to say "yo soy." However, most of the time we would not state that particular subject. The following subject pronouns are usually omitted unless we want to emphasize them: yo, tú, nosotros/nosotras, and vosotros, vosotras. When the subject has been established in the conversation and it is obvious to whom we are referring, ANY subject pronoun can be omitted.

1.4.d. To learn about cognates

Cognates are words that refer to the same thing, and look and sound similar in two or more languages. Nouns, verbs, adjectives, and adverbs can be cognates. This means that you already know many, many words in Spanish (even if you don't realize it yet). You can find many websites that list common Spanish/English cognates.

Today we will focus on adjectives and how we can use them with the verb SER. SER refers to characteristics of people, so if we ask "¿Cómo es la profesora?" we want to know what kind of a person she is.

Below is a list of Spanish cognate adjectives. You should be able to guess the meaning of all of them. Look up any words that you cannot understand.

Spanish Adjective Cognates

activo	extrovertido	independiente	perfecto
ambicioso	famoso	inteligente	positivo
arrogante	fantástico	interesante	puntual
artístico	flexible	intolerante	religioso
atractivo	generoso	introvertido	reservado
brillante	honesto	liberal	responsable
curioso	horrible	misterioso	romántico
cruel	ideal	modesto	serio
deshonesto	ignorante	muscular	sincero
eficiente	impaciente	negativo	tímido
elegante	importante	organizado	tolerante
emocional	imposible	paciente	terrible
excelente	impulsivo	peculiar	valiente

Be sure to make these adjectives agree with the nouns (or subject pronouns) they modify.

¿Cómo es ella?	Es paciente y atractiva.	(feminine singular)
¿Cómo es él?	Es romántico y modesto	(masculine singular)
¿Cómo son ellos?	Son valientes y sinceros	(masculine plural)
¿Cómo sois vosotras?	Somos elegantes y honestas.	(feminine plural)
¿Cómo eres tú?	_____	(? singular)

Complete 1.5 Para Estudiar en Casa and 1.5 Para Practicar en Casa.

1.5: Para estudiar en casa

1.5 Learning Objectives:

- To learn the numbers 0-99 in Spanish
- To study the indefinite article (a, an, or some) and grammatical gender
- To acquire vocabulary related to the university and the definite article
- To practice using the special verb form: hay (there is and there are)

Introduction:

Today we will study numbers and university related vocabulary. In order to practice these topics, we will also work on the indefinite article and a special verb form: hay. Numbers in Spanish are relatively easy and the indefinite article works like an adjective (see Section 1.4.c) in that it reflects gender and number. Hay is a special verb form for both singular and plural that is very useful and common.

1.5.a. To learn the numbers 0-99 in Spanish

To count in Spanish, use the following:

cero	diez	veinte	treinta	cuarenta	cincuenta
uno	once	veintiuno or veinte y uno	treinta y uno	cuarenta y uno
dos	doce	veintidós or veinte y dos	treinta y dos	cuarenta y dos	sesenta tres	trece	veintitrés or veinte y tres	treinta y tres	cuarenta y tres
cuatro	catorce	veinticuatro or veinte y cuatro	treinta y cuatro	cuarenta y cuatro	setenta
cinco	quince	veinticinco or veinte y cinco	treinta y cinco	cuarenta y cinco
seis	dieciséis or diez y seis	veintiséis or veinte y seis	treinta y seis	cuarenta y seis	ochenta
siete	diecisiete or diez y siete	veintisiete or veinte y siete	treinta y siete	cuarenta y siete
ocho	dieciocho or diez y ocho	veintiocho or veinte y ocho	treinta y ocho	cuarenta y ocho	noventa
nueve	diecinueve or diez y nueve	veintinueve or veinte y nueve	treinta y nueve	cuarenta y nueve

As you can see, numbers 16-19 and 21-29 have two forms. It is recommended that you use one or the other. Note that the combined forms may require written accents and the other (non-combined) forms are similar to the rest of the numbers (31-39, 41-49, etc.). Both forms are correct.

1.5. b. To study the indefinite article (a, an, or some) and grammatical gender

When we refer to non-specific nouns in English, we use what is called the "indefinite article." Non-specific is when we say things like: "a book" or "some pens." This works the same way in Spanish, although not always word for word. In Spanish, the indefinite article works like an adjective; therefore, it has to agree in gender and number. In Spanish, all nouns have gender; this is considered grammatical gender, not biological gender. This can be confusing, but all nouns are either masculine or feminine. Here is the indefinite article in Spanish.

masculine	un	unos
feminine	una	unas

When the noun is masculine singular, use un: un cuaderno (a notebook)
 When the noun is feminine singular, use una: una ventana (a window)
 When the noun is masculine plural, use unos: unos cuadernos (some notebooks)
 When the noun is feminine plural, use unas: unas ventanas (some windows)

In English, we sometimes say "an" instead of "a." This is because of the sound of the next word, as in "an apple," instead of "a apple." This does not occur with the indefinite article in Spanish. However, the number 21 (veintiuno) has similar forms when used with nouns: veintiún cuadernos, veinteuna ventanas.

1.5.c. To acquire vocabulary related to the university and the definite article

In English, the definite article (the) is used to refer to specific nouns ("the book," as opposed to "a book"). The definite article, like the indefinite article, works like an adjective and has to agree in gender and number. Here is the definite article in Spanish.

Gender/Number	singular	plural
masculine	el	los feminine	la	las

When the noun is masculine singular, use el: el cuaderno (the notebook)
 When the noun is feminine singular, use la: la ventana (the window)
 When the noun is masculine plural, use los: los cuadernos (the notebooks)
 When the noun is feminine plural, use las: las ventanas (the windows)

It is very important to pay attention to the gender of nouns. As we saw in 1.4.a, the last letter or letters of a word can sometimes help you to know the gender. Below is a list of high probabilities of gender based on word ending (but there are almost always exceptions!).

Masculine endings	-o	taco
Feminine endings	-a, -ión, -tad, dad	casa, educación, libertad, universidad

Below is a list of "active" vocabulary related to the university and the classroom. "Active" vocabulary means that it is fair game for any future test or quiz. Try to memorize vocabulary with the definite article; this will help you to remember the gender of the noun. Many of these words are cognates and should be relatively easy to guess. Look up any words that you might not know.

Los lugares	Los objetos	Las personas	Las materias
la biblioteca	el bolígrafo	el bibliotecario	la biología
el bosque	la computadora	la bibliotecaria	las matemáticas
la cafetería	el cuaderno	el compañero de clase (de cuarto)	la psicología
la calle	el diccionario	la compañera de clase (de cuarto)	los estudios internacionales
la cancha (de tenis, de fútbol)	el escritorio	el consejero	el español
el edificio	el lápiz	la consejera	el francés
el estacionamiento	el libro de texto	el estudiante	la administración de empresas
el gimnasio	la mesa	la estudiante	las comunicaciones
la librería	la mochila	el presidente	la filosofía
la oficina	el papel	la presidenta	la literatura
la piscina	la pizarra	el profesor	el inglés
la residencia	la puerta	la profesora	la sociología
el salón de clase	la silla	el secretario	las ciencias (naturales, políticas, sociales)
la tienda	la ventana	la secretaria	la economía

1.5. d. To practice using the special verb form: hay (there is and there are)

Hay means "there is" and "there are." Note that this verb form is both singular and plural. Place "no" before the verb to negate it. Study the following:

English	Spanish
What is there in the classroom?	¿Qué hay en el salón de clase?
There are some students.	Hay unos estudiantes.
How many students are there?	¿Cuántos estudiantes hay?
There are twenty five students	Hay veinticinco estudiantes.
Are there two professors?	¿Hay dos profesores?
No, there are not (two professors).	No, no hay (dos profesores).
Is there a window in the classroom?	¿Hay una ventana en el salón de clase?
Yes, there are two.	Sí, hay dos.

Tarea (homework):

Complete 1.6 Para Estudiar en Casa and 1.6 Para Practicar en Casa.

1.6: Para estudiar en casa

1.6 Learning Objectives:

- To be able to express likes and dislikes with gustar
- To understand the infinitive form of Spanish verbs and how to use it with gustar
- To learn some Spanish verb meanings

Introduction:

Today we will learn how to talk about things (nouns) and activities (verbs) that we like and dislike. We will use the verb gustar. The grammatical structure of gustar works differently than in English. We will learn some new vocabulary and practice some that we have already learned.

1.6.a. To be able to express likes and dislikes with gustar

Study the following examples.

Español	Inglés
Me gusta el libro.	I like the book. (singular noun)
Me gusta la mochila.	I like the backpack. (singular noun)
Me gustan los libros.	I like the books. (plural noun)
Me gustan las mochilas.	I like the backpacks. (plural noun)
Me gusta leer.	I like to read. (one activity/verb)

The verb gustar means to be pleasing. So structurally, "me gusta la clase" literally means "the class is pleasing to me". In English, we would say: "I like the class." For now, learn to express likes and dislikes without worrying about this difference in grammatical structure. Study the following:

English (note that these subject pronouns are not used in Spanish)	Liking singular nouns or activities (verbs)	Liking plural nouns
I like...	me gusta...	me gustan...
you (tú) like...	te gusta...	te gustan...
he likes she likes you (usted) like...	le gusta...	le gustan...
we like...	nos gusta...	nos gustan...
you (vosotros) like...	os gusta...	os gustan...
they like you (ustedes) like...	les gusta...	les gustan...

Note that the only difference in the conjugation of gustar is that there is an "n" at the end when there is plural nouns.

With gustar, it is very important to use the definite article with nouns, unless it is a proper noun. Proper nouns refer to individual people, places, or institutions and are usually capitalized.

MODELO:

Me gusta la universidad. (noun)

Me gusta HSU. (proper noun)

To clarify the meaning of le or les (which could refer to him or her) or to emphasize (for example when comparing: "she doesn't, but I do"), there is an additional element.

Singular	Plural
(a mí) me gusta = I like	(a nosotros/as) nos gusta
(a ti) te gusta = you like	(a vosotros/as) os gusta
(a él) le gusta = he likes	(a ellos) les gusta
(a ella) le gusta = she likes	(a ellas) les gusta
(a usted) le gusta = you like	(a ustedes) les gusta

To negate this type of sentence, the word "no" goes between the two elements: "A ella no le gusta." Sometimes the additional element is all that is needed to communicate the idea. Study the following.

Spanish	English
Me gusta la clase. ¿te gusta?	I like the class. Do you?
Sí, a mí también.	Yes, I do too.
A Roberto no le gusta el libro, pero a ella, sí.	Robert doesn't like the book, but she does.

Note:

Whenever the verb gustar is used, we must include the first element (me, te, etc.), which is called the indirect object pronoun.

1.6.b. To understand the infinitive form of Spanish verbs and how to use it with gustar

The infinitive verb form is when the verb is not conjugated. That means that it is the simplest form of the verb, unmodified and without a subject. The subject is usually a person that performs the action of the verb. In English, the infinitive has two parts. The first part is always the word "to." Here are some examples:

English infinitives:

to be	to live
to speak	to rain
to eat	to care about

In Spanish, the infinitive form is just one word and always ends in the letter "r." There are three types of Spanish verbs, those that end in -ar, -er, and -ir. Here are the same verbs in Spanish:

Spanish infinitives:

hablar	cuidar
comer	ser
vivir	escribir

In English, we can say: "I like to read" (infinitive) or "I like reading" (-ing form). We can use the infinitive or the -ing form for this type of sentence. In Spanish, we always use the infinitive form for this type of sentence: Me gusta leer. Study the following examples.

English	Spanish
I like living in Arcata. Do you?	Me gusta vivir en Arcata. ¿Te gusta?
Yes, I do too, but María doesn't.	Sí, a mí también, pero a María, no.
...	...
Well, we like to eat at Renata's.	Pues, nos gusta comer en Renata's.
My friends like eating there too.	A mis amigos les gusta comer allí también.

1.6.c. To learn some Spanish verb meanings

You have already learned a few verbs in the previous sections of this book (ser, hablar, comer, vivir, llover, cuidar, and gustar). Now we will learn some more verbs so that we can practice using the infinitive form with gustar. The following list of verbs will be considered active vocabulary.

Spanish Infinitives	English Infinitives
aprender	to learn
bailar	to dance
beber	to drink
enseñar	to teach
escribir	to write
escuchar	to listen
estudiar	to study
hacer	to do / to make
jugar	to play (a sport or a game)
practicar	to practice

B. El español en el mundo

In a small group, compare the information you found about the current numbers of Spanish speakers. Did you find the same answers? What is different and who is correct? Discuss your findings with the class.

C. Repaso (Review)

Practice the following with a classmate.

1. Take turns saying the letters of the alphabet in Spanish. Is there any pronunciation that you have doubts about? If so, discuss with your partner or ask the professor. Practice the alphabet by dictating words to each other (spell them and have your partner write them down).

2. Count to 100 with your partner. Take turns and start over if you mess up or hesitate too long. Dictate some phone numbers (or other numbers) that you know and have your partner write them down.

3. Discuss with your partner the differences and appropriate uses of the following: tú, usted, vosotros, ustedes.

4. With your partner practice the conjugation of the verb ser. Randomly switch subjects below and ask your partner to conjugate the verb.

yo	tú
él	ella
usted	nosotros/as vosotros/as	ellos
ellas	ustedes

5. Practice adjective agreement with your partner by selecting subjects above and matching them with the adjectives below. ("yo / honesto" - honesta or honesto depends on who says "yo")

atractivo	generoso	introvertido	reservado
brillante	honesto	liberal	responsable
curioso	horrible	misterioso	romántico

6. Practice university related vocabulary and the verb hay with your partner by providing several answers to the following questions. Don't forget to use the indefinite article.

- ¿Qué hay en tu cuarto?
- ¿Qué hay en tu mochila?
- ¿Qué hay en el salón de clase?
- ¿Qué hay en la universidad?

7. Practice gustar with your partner by answering the questions below. Don't forget to use the definite article with nouns.

- ¿Te gusta la universidad?
- ¿Te gustan las hamburguesas?
- ¿Qué más te gusta?
- ¿Te gusta vivir en Humboldt?
- ¿Te gusta bailar?
- ¿Qué más te gusta hacer?

8. Practice telling the time with your partner using the chart below

¿Qué hora es?

1. 6:15 a.m.	2. 3:30 p.m.
3. 7:45 p.m.	4. 8:19 a.m.

- To understand the forms and uses of the possessive adjectives
- To acquire family related vocabulary

Introduction:

In this section, we will examine more fully the concept of grammatical gender and the masculine and feminine forms of nouns and adjectives. We will learn how to pluralize nouns and adjectives, learn about the possessive adjectives, and family vocabulary.

2.1.a. To learn more about the masculine and feminine forms of nouns and adjectives

Normally, nouns that refer to males are masculine and nouns that refer to females are feminine. In other words, the biological gender is indicated by the word itself. In the lists below, notice how the articles also reflect gender in Spanish.

Masculine	Feminine	Masculino	Femenino
the man	the woman	el hombre	la mujer
the father	the mother	el padre	la madre
the rooster	the hen	el gallo	la gallina
the ram	the ewe	el carnero	la oveja

Biological gender is often indicated in professions in English and Spanish.

the actor	the actress	el actor	la actriz
the king	the queen	el rey	la reina

In English, since gender is not indicated in the articles, gender neutrality is becoming common more quickly. For example, we rarely say "waiter/waitress" or "steward/stewardess." These words have been replaced with the more gender-neutral terms: "server" and "flight attendant."

In Spanish, sometimes there are different words to indicate gender, like el hombre and la mujer. Other times, the word is modified to reflect the gender of the individual, as in el niño and la niña. Some masculine nouns (and adjectives) that end in o can be changed to the feminine by changing o to a. Some examples are:

masculino	femenino
el hermano	la hermana
el primo	la prima
el abuelo	la abuela
el hijo	la hija
el tío	la tía
el perro	la perra

Some masculine nouns that end in consonants can be changed to the feminine by adding an a to the end of the word. Here are some examples:

masculino	femenino
el profesor	la profesora
el señor	la señora
el investigador	la investigadora
el doctor	la doctora

Note: Nouns that end in ista and most nouns that end in e can be masculine or feminine. For example:

masculino	femenino
el artista	la artista
el dentista	la dentista
el estudiante	la estudiante
el cantante	la cantante

A few words that end in e can also be changed to the feminine by changing e to a, but it is still correct to just change the article. As in:

masculino	femenino
el presidente	la presidente or la presidenta

Some words, although they refer to people, do not change gender. They are like most nouns; they do not change their gender. An important example of this is the word "person." "Person" is a feminine noun and there is no masculine form, so even though we are speaking about a man, we could refer to him as "la persona," as in "la persona quien escribe" (the person who is writing).

So far, all this talk about gender has referred to individuals (people or animals) that have biological gender. For English speakers, this makes perfect sense. However, all nouns in Spanish have grammatical gender; they are either masculine or feminine regardless of what they refer to. In other words, the gender is arbitrary and does not change. A table is feminine and a shoe is masculine, and that is all there is to it. This can be a difficult concept to grasp, but it is an essential part of the Spanish language and simply must be accepted.

As mentioned in 1.5.c, the ending of nouns can often help to identify the gender. Predicting gender of nouns based on the final letters of the word is not always possible.

However, here are some high probability indicators:

Gender	Ending	Example
Masculine	-o	taco
Feminine	-a, -ión, -dad, -dad	casa, educación, libertad, universidad

Note: El día and la mano are common exceptions. Other exceptions include masculine nouns that are derived from Greek, not Latin, and include words ending -ma, -ta and -pa: (el problema, el programa, el planeta, el cometa, el drama, and el mapa). See this link for more detailed information on predicting gender of nouns based on word endings.

2.1.b. To understand more about the singular and plural forms of nouns and adjectives

There are a few rules for pluralizing nouns. Fortunately, these same rules also apply to adjectives. Remember that articles and adjectives must agree with the noun in gender and number. Masculine forms are commonly used to refer to groups with at least one male. Some nouns are singular and refer to a group of individuals, like la familia and la clase (referring to a group of students).

To pluralize a noun (or adjective) that ends in a vowel, add s.

Singular	Plural
el padre	los padres
el hijo	los hijos
la hermana	las hermanas
la esposa	las esposas

To pluralize a noun (or adjective) that ends in a consonant, add es.

Singular	Plural
el papel	los papeles
la universidad	las universidades
el profesor	los profesores
la actitud	las actitudes

Note: If the singular form ends in a stressed syllable with an accent (tilde), the accent is dropped in the plural form: la nación → las naciones.

Note: To pluralize nouns that end in the letter z, change z to c before adding es: el lápiz → los lápices.

2.1.c. To understand the forms and uses of the possessive adjectives

The possessive adjectives modify nouns and tell to whom the noun belongs, for example: "my class" and "your book." The possessive adjectives correspond to the subject pronouns (I → my, you → your, etc.). Like all adjectives, the possessive adjectives must agree in number with the nouns they modify, so most have two forms: singular and plural. In addition, the nosotros and vosotros forms also agree in gender, therefore, there are four forms. Study the following chart.

Gender/Number	Singular	Plural
First Person	mi(s)	nuestro(s) / nuestra(s)
Second Person	tu(s)	vuestro(s) / vuestra(s)
Third Person	su(s)	su(s)

Note:

As with the verb conjugations, personal pronouns of the second person formal (usted and ustedes) use the third person forms.

Possessive adjectives must agree in gender and number with the nouns that they modify, but most possessive adjectives only have to agree in number. Study the following examples.

With Singular Nouns	With Plural Nouns
Leo mi libro.	Leo mis libros.
Su hermana está aquí.	Sus hermanas están aquí.
Nuestro tío estudia español.	Nuestros tíos estudian español.
Vuestra tía estudia español.	Vuestras tías estudian español.

Note:

"Su" and "sus" could mean "his," "her," "their," or "your" depending on the context of the sentence. As in English, most of the time, it is clear to whom the noun pertains.

2.1.d. To acquire family related vocabulary

The following is an example of a family tree, showing some basic family relationships. We will use this family tree to discuss Carmen's family from her perspective. In the narrative below, notice the gender and number agreements of the family vocabulary.

Juan y Elena son mis abuelos. Juan es mi abuelo y Elena es mi abuela. Olivia y Miguel son mis padres. Olivia es mi madre y Miguel es mi padre. Roberto, Alejandro, Natalia y Pedro son mis tíos. Roberto, Alejandro y Pedro son mis tíos. Natalia es mi tía. Raquel es mi hermana y Sofía es mi prima.

Soy la nieta de Juan y Elena. Soy la hija de Olivia y Miguel. Soy la sobrina de Roberto, Alejandro, Natalia y Pedro. Soy la hermana de Raquel y la prima de Sofía.

Study the following vocabulary and think about how you could describe your family relationships. Look up any additional words that you need to describe your family.

Los parientes	The Relatives
los padres	the parents
el padre	the father
la madre	the mother
los hijos	the children
el hijo	the son
la hija	the daughter
los abuelos	the grandparents
el abuelo	the grandfather
la abuela	the grandmother
los hermanos	the siblings
el hermano	the brother
la hermana	the sister
los tíos	the aunts and uncles
el tío	the uncle
la tía	the aunt
los sobrinos	the nieces and nephews
los nietos	the grandchildren
los primos	the cousins
el esposo	the husband
la esposa	the wife
el padrastro	the stepfather
la madrastra	the stepmother
el hijastro	the stepson

el cuñado	the brother-in-law
la cuñada	the sister-in-law

Las mascotas	The Pets
el perro	the dog
el gato	the cat
el pájaro	the bird

Note:

The masculine plural form is commonly used to refer to both masculine and feminine counterparts (los tíos = the aunts and uncles, etc.).

2.2: Para estudiar en casa

2.2 Learning Objectives:

- To learn to stress all words (without written accents) that end in a vowel, n, or s
- To learn to stress all words (without written accents) that end in other consonants
- To learn to stress all words with written accents

Introduction:

In this section, we will work on pronunciation. Specifically, we will learn to stress the correct syllable of every word in Spanish. The stressed syllable is dependant upon the last letter of the word and / or if it has a written accent. There are other ways to understand this information and, perhaps, you have studied them. Use whichever way helps you to best understand how to stress words in Spanish.

2.2.a. To learn to stress all words (without written accents) that end in a vowel, n, or s

Every word in Spanish has one syllable that is stressed more than the other syllables. When pronouncing the word, it is incorrect to stress the wrong syllable. In fact, stressing the wrong syllable may even result a completely different word. Words that have only one syllable must stress the single syllable, so this section will focus on multi-syllable words.

- Words in Spanish that have no written accent and end in a vowel, n, or s always stress the second-to-last (penultimate) syllable.

That's it. It's simple. Right? Learn that statement and you will know how to correctly stress most words in Spanish (well, sometimes you will have to know how to divide words into syllables too - for now, divide them as best you can using what you know from English).

Here are some examples:

casa	hombre	niño	pantalones	hablan
hermana	pesadumbre	cerebro	granadas	bailaron

Each of these words ends in a vowel, n, or s and none have written accents, so they all stress the penultimate syllable. It doesn't matter if there are two or many more syllables; count from the last syllable and stress the second-to-last. You do not need to know what the words mean in order to pronounce them correctly. As you say them, overemphasize the stressed syllable (sometimes it helps to gesture with your hand or nod your head as you stress the words).

2.2.b. To learn to stress all words (without written accents) that end in other consonants

Now we will learn to appropriately stress all the other words without written accents.

- Words that don't have a written accent and end in any other consonant (other than n or s) always stress the last syllable.

Know this rule (and the first one) and you will be able to correctly stress the vast majority of words in Spanish. Again, since we are focusing on stressing the correct syllable, it's a good idea to overemphasize the pronunciation (and / or use hand gestures or head nods).

Here are some examples:

bondad	señor	feroz	papel	comer
universidad	trabajador	avestruz	español	aprender

Note:

You have already learned how to pluralize nouns and adjectives. If these words were pluralized, they would all follow the first rule (ending in s after adding -es), not this rule. The result is that the same root syllable is stressed (universidad → universidades).

2.2.c. To learn to stress all words with written accents

So far, we have covered all Spanish words without written accents. Now we will consider words with written accents. Written accents (la tilde) only go on vowels (á, é, í, ó, and ú). The tilde has two functions:

1. To change the normally stressed syllable (basically to break the two rules we just discussed)
2. To indicate a different connotation of a word that is pronounced exactly the same. These "twin" words are usually monosyllable words (mi vs mí), but also there are some with more syllables (como vs cómo).

For now, we only need to concern ourselves with the first function, the one that changes the normally stressed syllable. The tilde breaks the rules previously discussed and allows words to be stress on any syllable (last, second-to-last, third-to-last, etc.).

- Words with written accents (tildes) always stress the syllable with the tilde.

Once again, as you pronounce these words, try to overemphasize the pronunciation with special attention to the syllables. It also helps to use hand gestures or head nods.

Here are some examples:

última sílaba	penúltima sílaba	antipenúltima sílaba
jamás	árbol	séptimo
ratón	lápiz	América
corazón	azúcar	islámico
Panamá	fácil	México

Note:

When nouns and adjectives with tildes (and without) are pluralized, they must still stress the same root syllable. Most of the time, this means that you carryover the tilde to the plural form. Here are some examples:

Carrying over the tilde árbol → árboles
América → Américas

However, in some uncommon cases, when you pluralize, you may have to add or remove a tilde to maintain the stress on the root syllable. Either way, all words follow one of the three rules presented in this section. Here are some examples:

Adding tildes to plural forms	Removing tildes to plural forms
examen → exámenes	ratón → ratones
orden → órdenes	corazón → corazones

Here is a summary of the three rules for stressing the correct syllable in all Spanish words.

Pronunciation Rules for Syllable Stress

1. Words in Spanish that have no written accent and end in a vowel, n, or s always stress the second-to-last (penultimate) syllable.
2. Words that don't have a written accent and end in any other consonant (other than n or s) always stress the last syllable.
3. Words with written accents (tildes) always stress the syllable with the tilde.

2.3 Learning Objectives:

- To fully understand the use of subject pronouns
- To learn conjugations for regular -ar verbs
- To be able to construct and respond to "yes or no" questions
- To acquire vocabulary related to common -ar verbs

Introduction:

In this section, we will discuss the use of subject pronouns and learn the conjugations for regular -ar verbs. You will be able to use several regular -ar verbs to ask and answer yes and no questions.

2.3.a. To fully understand the use of subject pronouns

Please review the introduction to subject pronouns in 1.4.b. Also, review the different uses in Spanish of the subject pronoun "you" as presented in 1.3.b.

Subject pronouns, like all pronouns, take the place of nouns.

- "I" and "we" refer to the person speaking and are considered the "first" person.
- "You" refers to the person being spoken to and is considered the "second" person.
- "He, she, it," and "they" refer to the person being spoken about and are considered the third person.

There are singular and plural forms of the first, second, and third person subject pronouns. Examine the following chart.

Person/Number	Singular	Plural
First Person	yo	nosotros/as
Second Person	tú, usted	vosotros/as, ustedes
Third Person	él, ella	ellos, ellas

Note:

"Usted" and "ustedes" are commonly abbreviated as "Ud." and "Uds."

As discussed in 1.4.b, subject pronouns are frequently omitted in Spanish. This is because that information is understood as part of the verb conjugation. Yo, tú, nosotros/as, and vosotros/as are typically omitted. In addition, the English subject pronoun "it" does not even exist in Spanish. There is no Spanish equivalent, because it is fully incorporated into the verb conjugation. Consider the following:

English	Spanish
It is important.	Es importante.
It is perfect.	Es perfecto.
It is horrible.	Es horrible.
It is one o'clock.	Es la una.

Note:

"It" can be a subject pronoun, performing the action of the verb (i.e. "It is important"), or "it" can be an object pronoun, receiving the action of the verb ("I see it" or "I threw the ball at it"). Do not confuse the subject pronoun "it," which do exist in Spanish, with the object pronouns "it." For now, just remember that the Spanish verb conjugation includes "it."

2.3.b. To learn conjugations for regular -ar verbs

There three types of regular verbs: verbs ending in -ar, -er, and -ir. In this section, we will focus on the conjugations of verbs ending in -ar. Remember that the infinitive is the form of the verb without conjugation. The infinitive and other verb forms have two parts: the stem and the ending.

Infinitivo (infinitive)	Raíz (stem)	Terminación (ending)
hablar	habl-	-ar

As we have seen in previous sections, the verb conjugations have endings associated with the subject pronouns. Here are the conjugations of the verb: hablar (to speak/to talk). Notice how the stem is the same, but the ending depends on the subject.

Singular			Plural
yo	hablo	(I speak)	nosotros/as	hablamos	(we speak)
tú	hablas	(you speak)	vosotros/as	habláis	(you speak)
él		(he/it speaks)	ellos		(they speak)
ella	habla	(she/it speaks)	ellas	hablan	(they speak)
usted		(you speak)	ustedes		(you speak)

Note:

The conjugations for the second person formal (usted and ustedes) are the same as the third person conjugations.

It is useful to memorize the verb hablar as an example verb for all regular -ar verbs. In addition, you can memorize just the endings: -o, -as, -a, -amos, -áis, -an.

Spanish present tense conjugations have different English equivalents depending on the context. Here are the most common:

Spanish Present Tense	English Equivalent	Context
Hablo	I speak	present action (habitual)
	I am speaking	in-progress action
	I do speak / Do I speak?	general actions/ question
	I will speak	near future action

2.3.c. To be able to construct and respond to "yes or no" questions

As noted in the previous section, one of the English equivalents of the Spanish present tense includes the auxiliary verb "to do." In English, this is how we commonly form "yes or no" questions, but there is no Spanish equivalent for that auxiliary verb; it is simply part of the Spanish verb conjugation. To form a question like: "Do you speak Spanish?" you would say: "¿Hablas español?"

Say the following examples out loud and notice how your voice naturally raises at the end of each question. This is called raising intonation. Raising intonation is one way that we indicate that we are asking a question.

Question in English	Pregunta en español
Do I speak now?	¿Hablo ahora?
Do you speak Spanish?	¿Hablas español?
Does he speak English?	¿Habla inglés?
Do we speak?	¿Hablamos?
Do they speak German?	¿Hablan alemán?

Note:

In Spanish, there is a question mark at the beginning and at the end of questions. This way, you will know that it should be read as a question before you start reading it.

In English, we are not required to use the auxiliary verb "to do." All of the above questions could be formed without it. "I speak now?" and "you speak Spanish?" are perfectly good questions in English. In English, the auxiliary verb can soften the question and make it more obvious that the sentence is a question.

Sometimes, when forming questions, we can alter the normal order (placement) of the subject and verb. Consider the possible answers to the question: "You guys speak Spanish?"

Normal order (statement)	We do.
Normal order (question)	We do?
Altered order (question)	Do we?

When we reverse the normal order of the subject and verb in order to form questions, we emphasize the fact that it is a question. The same is true in Spanish, but the placement of the subject is even more flexible. Notice the placement of the subject pronoun in these questions:

Questions in English	Preguntas en español
Does he speak Spanish?	¿Habla español?
He speaks Spanish?	¿Él habla español?
	¿Habla él español?
	¿Habla español él?

To answer these questions, we could simply say "sí" or "no." However, it is very important to practice answering with more complete sentences, especially the verb conjugation.

Here are possible affirmative answers to these questions.

Affirmative Responses in English	Respuestas afirmativas en español
Yes.	Sí.
Yes, he does speak Spanish.	Sí, habla español.
Yes, he speaks Spanish.	Sí, él habla español.

Note:

The use of the subject pronoun (él) in the response is unnecessary, because the subject is already established in the question.

Negative Responses in English	Respuestas negativas en español
No.	No.
No, he does not speak Spanish?	No, no habla español.
	No, él no habla español.

Note:

In Spanish, the word "no" can appear twice in the responses. One answers the question, just like in English. The other negates the verb, just like the word "not" in English.

¿Tus amigos hablan español?

Sí, hablan español.

¿Hablan alemán?

No, no hablan alemán.

2.3.d. To acquire vocabulary related to common -ar verbs

2.4 Learning Objectives:

- To learn conjugations for regular -er and -ir verbs
- To acquire vocabulary related to common regular -er and -ir verbs
- To be able to ask and answer questions using common interrogative words

Introduction:

In this section, we will greatly expand our ability to conjugate Spanish verbs by learning the other two types of regular conjugations, -er and -ir verbs. We will continue to practice the verbs by asking questions, but now we will ask them with interrogative (question) words.

2.4.a. To learn conjugations for regular -er and -ir verbs

In section 2.3.b, you learned how to conjugate regular -ar verbs and what their conjugations mean in English. This knowledge will make it much easier to understand the conjugations and uses of regular -er and -ir verbs.

Just like -ar verbs, -er and -ir verbs have two parts. We will use the common verbs of comer (to eat) and vivir (to live) as examples.

Infinitivo (infinitive)	Raíz (stem)	Terminación (ending)
comer	com-	-er
vivir	viv-	-ir

The conjugations for regular -er and -ir verbs are very similar to regular -ar verb conjugations. Notice that the only difference between -ar verbs and -er verbs are the vowels (a → e).

Singular			Plural
yo	como	vivo	nosotros/as	comemos	vivimos
tú	comes	vives	vosotros/as	coméis	vivís
él			ellos
ella	come	vive	ellas	comen	viven
usted			ustedes

The endings for the -er and -ir verbs are identical, except for the nosotros and vosotros forms.

Singular		Plural
yo	-o	nosotros/as	-emos	-imos
tú	-es	vosotros/as	-éis	-ís
él		ellos
ella	-e	ellas	-en
usted		ustedes

2.4.b. To acquire vocabulary related to common regular -er and -ir verbs

Here are some common regular -er verbs. They all conjugate exactly like comer in the present tense.

Spanish	English
aprender	to learn
beber	to drink
comer	to eat
comprender	to understand
correr	to run
creer (en)*	to think, to believe (in) deber	to owe, should, must leer	to read
responder (a)*	to respond, to answer, to reply
vender	to sell

Here are some common regular -ir verbs. They conjugate exactly like vivir.

Spanish	English
abrir	to open
asistir (a)*	to attend (to go to an event)
compartir	to share, to divide up
cumplir	to fulfill, to carry out (obligations)
escribir	to write
insistir (en)*	to insist (on) recibir	to receive
subir (a)*	to go up, to climb up
vivir	to live

Note:

Depending on what follows, certain verbs (*) can require prepositions and others can be used with infinitives.

2.4.c. To be able to ask and answer questions using common interrogative words

In 2.3.c, you learned how to ask and answer "yes or no" questions. In this section, we will focus on interrogative words (question words) to form questions.

In previous sections, we have already used a few interrogative words. Here is a list of interrogative words that we will use in this section.

Spanish	English
¿cómo?	how?
¿cuándo?	when?
¿cuánto?	how much?
¿cuántos(as)?	how many?
¿cuál(es)?	what? / which?
¿dónde?	where?
¿por qué?	why?
¿qué?	what?
¿quién(es)?	who? / whom?

Note:

All interrogative words have written accent marks. The accent mark does not change which syllable of the word is stressed. Instead, the accent mark on interrogative words indicates that the word functions as a question. Notice the difference in the function of the word "where" in the following examples.

Spanish	English
¿Dónde vives?	Where do you live?
Sé donde vives.	I know where you live.

In the first example, "where" is an interrogative word and functions as a question. In the second example, it does not. In Spanish, this difference is indicated by the accent mark.

In the following examples, notice that the verb in the question is frequently required in the answer, although the subject may often be different.

Pregunta	Respuesta
¿Cómo estás?	Estoy bien.
¿Cuándo es la clase?	Es a las 2.
¿Cuánto dinero necesitas?	Necesito dos dólares.
¿Cuántos estudiantes hay en la clase?	Hay 25 estudiantes.
¿Cuál es tu deporte favorito?	Es el futbol americano.
¿Dónde vives?	Vivo en Chicago.
¿Por qué estudias español?	Estudio español porque mis amigos hablan español.

¿Qué escuchas?	Escucho música clásica.
¿Quién enseña la clase?	La profesora enseña la clase.

If there is a preposition in the question, the same preposition usually occurs in the answer.

Pregunta	Respuesta
¿De dónde eres?	Soy de Chicago.
¿Para quién es el libro?	Es para mi amiga.
¿A qué hora es el concierto?	Es a las 10.

Questions with interrogative words function the same way as "yes or no" questions. See section 2.3.c to review raising intonation, English auxiliary verb "to do," word order in questions, affirmative responses, and negative responses.

Note:

Both ¿cuál? and ¿qué? can mean "what?" in English. The main difference is with the verb ser. With the verb ser, ¿qué? asks for a definition, but ¿cuál? asks for a specific answer from a set of possibilities. Consider the following questions and answers.

¿Qué es tu número de teléfono? Es el número para llamarme.	What is your telephone number? It's the number you dial to call me.
¿Cuál es tu número de teléfono? Es (707) 555-8292.	What is your telephone number? It's (707) 555-8292.
¿Qué es tu deporte favorito? Es el deporte que me gusta más.	What's your favorite sport? It's the one I like the most.
¿Cuál es tu deporte favorito? Es el fútbol.	What's your favorite sport? It's soccer.

Note:

In English, we would rarely ask the above questions that start with ¿qué es? However, whenever we are asking for a definition, we would say ¿qué es? (i.e. ¿Qué es una preposición?)

Complete 2.5 Para Estudiar en Casa and 2.5 Para Practicar en Casa.

2.5: Para estudiar en casa

2.5 Learning Objectives:

- To learn the present tense conjugation of the verb estar
- To modify nouns using estar and adjectives
- To be able to use estar for location

Introduction:

In this section, we will focus on two uses of a very common and important verb, estar. You have already used this verb to express how you are. Now we will learn the full present tense conjugation of estar, new adjectives to use with this verb, and how to tell where nouns are located.

2.5.a. To learn the present tense conjugation of the verb estar

Ser and estar are two verbs that express "to be" in English. You will study the differences between ser and estar in Chapter 4. For now, think of ser as describing characteristics (she is intelligent) and estar as describing conditions (she is tired).

Estar is an -ar verb, but it is also irregular, so it does not exactly conjugate like hablar. Carefully study and practice saying out loud the full conjugation of estar.

Singular		Plural
yo	estoy	nosotros/as	estamos
tú	estás	vosotros/as	estáis
él		ellos
ella	está	ellas	están
usted		ustedes

Note:

Notice that the ending for the nosotros and vosotros are the same as regular -ar verbs. The other forms are irregular. The y at the end of the conjugation for yo and the written accents on the other forms change which syllable is stressed. For those subjects, regular -ar verbs stress the second-to-last syllable, but these all stress the last syllable. Consider the written accent to be as important as a letter. If you do not include it, not only is it misspelled, but it could also mean something completely different.

2.5.b. To modify nouns using estar and adjectives

In chapter 1, we introduced the use of ser with adjectives. Ser is used when the adjective is a characteristic (referring to professions, religions, qualities of the noun). Estar is used to describe states and conditions. Notice the different types of adjectives in the following examples.

Pregunta	Respuesta
¿Cómo eres?	Soy inteligente, generoso y organizado.
¿Cómo estás?	Estoy alegre, entusiasmado y contento

As with all adjectives, they must agree in gender and number with the noun they modify. As a review, here are the different forms of the adjectives above:

Gender / Number	Singular	Plural
Masculine	alegre, generoso, contento	alegres, generosos, contentos
Feminine	alegre, generosa, contenta	alegres, generosas, contentas

The most common word used with estar is bien (well). It's actually an adverb and, therefore, there is only one form.

Pregunta	Respuesta
¿Cómo estás?	(Estoy) bien.
¿Cómo están tus familiares?	(Están) bien.

The following adjectives describe states and conditions and are typically used with estar.

Spanish	English
aburrido	bored
apurado	hurried, in a hurry
bien	well (good)
borracho	drunk
cansado	tired
enfermo	sick
entusiasmado	enthusiastic
feliz	happy
furioso	furious, angry, mad
listo	ready
loco	crazy
nervioso	nervous
orgullosa	proud
sano	healthy
tranquilo	calm, quiet
triste	sad

MODELO:

- ¿Cómo está tu hermana?
Está feliz, orgullosa y entusiasmada.
- ¿Cómo están tus primos?
Están nerviosos, cansados y apurados.
- ¿Cómo están tus primas?
Están tranquilas, aburridas y tristes.
- ¿Cómo estás?
Estoy bien.

2.5.c. To be able to use estar for location

One of the uses of estar is to express location. We use estar to ask where something is and to express where something is. Consider the following sentences.

Pregunta	Respuesta
¿Dónde estás?	Estoy en mi casa.
¿Dónde está el libro de texto?	Está en mi mochila.
¿Dónde están los estudiantes?	Están en clase.

We often use the word en when using estar for location. In the following examples, notice how the word en is expressed differently in English.

Spanish	English
Estamos en California.	We're in California.
Mi teléfono está en la mesa.	My phone is on the table.
Los niños están en casa.	The boys are at home.

Note:

When expressing location, use "en" to express "at" ("at home"). When expressing time, use "a" to express "at" ("at two o'clock").

The following words can be used to express location without the word en.

Spanish	English	Example
aquí	here	Estamos aquí.
allí	over there	Estáis allí.
allá	(way) over there	Están allá.

As in English, the use of these words is relative (depending on the perspective of the speaker).

Complete 2.6 Para Estudiar en Casa and 2.6 Para Practicar en Casa.

2.6: Para estudiar en casa

2.6 Learning Objectives:

- To learn the present tense conjugation of the verb tener
- To learn and be able to use special expressions with the verb tener
- To be able to use tener and other verbs with infinitives

Introduction:

In this section, we will practice a very common and useful verb: tener. First, we will learn its conjugation, which is irregular. Then we will learn to use several useful idioms with the verb tener. Lastly, we will learn to combine tener and other verbs with infinitives.

2.6.a. To learn the present tense conjugation of the verb tener

Tener means "to have" in English, but only in the sense of possession, as in "I have three brothers"; it is not the same as the auxiliary verb "to have," as in "I have done that" or "I have dinner" (as in "to eat").

Tener is an -er verb, but it is also irregular, so it does not exactly conjugate like comer. However, the endings are the same, it is the stem that is irregular. You will learn more verbs like tener, so it is important to get a good foundation to help you acquire other irregular verbs.

Carefully study and practice saying out loud the full conjugation of tener.

Singular		Plural
yo	tengo	nosotros/as	tenemos
tú	tienes	vosotros/as	tenéis
él		ellos
ella	tiene	ellas	tienen
usted		ustedes

Note:

There is a "g" in the yo form.

There is a "stem change" (cambio de raíz) of e → ie in the tú, usted, and ustedes forms.

That stem change does not appear in the yo, nosotros, or vosotros forms.

The endings are the same as all other -er verbs, like comer.

Read carefully the following examples:

¿Cuántos hermanos tienes?

Tengo tres hermanos.

¿Cuántas hermanas tienes?

Tengo tres hermanas.

¿Cuántos primos tienen ustedes?

Tenemos muchos primos porque tenemos muchos tíos.

2.6.b. To learn and be able to use special expressions with the verb tener

Besides referring to possession, tener is used to express states of being. In English, we use other verbs, like "to be," for these ideas, so try not to think of these as direct (word-for-word) translations, rather, focus on the meaning of what is being expressed.

Tener Expression	English Equivalent
tener # años	to be # years old tener hambre	to be hungry
tener sed	to be thirsty
tener calor	to be hot*
tener frío	to be cold
tener sueño	to be sleepy
tener razón	to be correct
tener miedo	to be afraid
tener prisa	to be in a hurry

Note:

*The expression tener calor refers to body heat. Be aware that ser/estar caliente referring to people means to being attractive/horny. Picante refers to spicy hot.

Carefully read the following examples.

¿Cuántos años tienes?

Tengo veintidós años.

¿Cómo estás?

Tengo (mucho) hambre.

¿Tienes sed.

No, no tengo sed.

¿Tienes calor?

No. Tengo frío.

¿Cómo estás?

Tengo sueño.

Tienes miedo.

Sí, tengo (mucho) miedo; no me gustan los monstruos.

¿Tienes unos minutos?

No. No tengo tiempo. Tengo mucha prisa.

2 + 2 = 4.

Tienes razón.

2.6.c. To be able to use tener and other verbs with infinitives

Tener can be combined with the infinitives of other verbs to express "to feel like doing" and "to have to do."

Tener Expression	English Equivalent
tener ganas de hacer	to feel like doing
tener que hacer	to have to do

Consider the following examples.

¿Tienes ganas de comer?

Sí, tengo ganas de comer.

¿Tenemos que estudiar hoy?

Sí, tenemos que estudiar todos los días.

Besides tener, many other verbs can also be combined with infinitives of other verbs. Here are some that you may have already learned.

Infinitive Expression	English Equivalent
necesitar hacer	to need to do
(Le) gusta hacer	to like to do
desear hacer	to desire/want to do
deber hacer	to must do/should do

Complete 2.7 Para Estudiar en Casa and 2.7 Para Practicar en Casa.

2.7: Para estudiar en casa

2.7 Learning Objectives:

- To be able to form EQUAL comparisons of nouns and adjectives
- To be able to form UNEQUAL comparisons of nouns and adjectives
- To be able to form superlatives

Introduction:

In this lesson, we will learn about EQUAL and UNEQUAL comparisons of nouns and adjectives.

Preliminary Note:

Be very careful to use the correct subject pronoun for both sides of the comparison. In conversational English, it is very common to use object pronouns instead of subject pronouns for comparisons. Although this is common, it is technically grammatically incorrect in formal English.

Conversational English	Formal English
I take as many classes as her .	I take as many classes as she (takes).
You take more classes than me .	You take more classes than I (take).
I am as tall as them .	I am as tall as they (are).
She is older than him .	She is older than he (is).

Since this is so common in English, it often leads to grammatical mistakes in Spanish. Always use subject pronouns for both sides of comparisons.

Note:

In formal English, we can repeat the verb or use the auxiliary verb "to do": (You have more brothers than I have / You have more brothers than I do). However, the verb should not be repeated in Spanish: (Tú lees tanto como yo).

2.7.a. To be able to form EQUAL comparisons of nouns and adjectives

To form EQUAL comparisons (comparaciones iguales) in English, we usually use "as as". In Spanish, this is replaced with forms of "tanto ... como". The form of "tanto" depends on what is being compared. Here are the formulas for EQUAL comparisons.

EQUAL Comparisons of:	Español	Inglés
Nouns	tanto/a/os/as (sustantivo) como	as many (noun) as / as much (noun) as
Adjectives	tan (adjetivo) como	as (adjective) as

Sustantivos / Nouns

Español	Inglés
Él tiene tanto dinero como ella.	He has as many money as she does.
Ella tiene tanta ropa como nosotros.	She has as much clothes as we have.
Compro tantos libros como tú.	I'm buying as many books as you.
Ellos toman tantas clases como yo.	They take as many classes as I do.

Note:

When comparing nouns, tanto functions as an adjective; therefore, there are four forms depending on the gender and number of the noun (tanto, tanta, tantos, tantas).

Adjetivos / Adjectives

Español	Inglés
Nosotros estamos tan cansados como él.	We are as tired as he is.
Tú eres tan bonita como ella.	You are as pretty as she is.
Ellos son tan estudiosos como yo.	They are as studious as I am.
Yo estoy tan nervioso como ellas.	I am as nervous as she is.

Note:

Don't forget that adjectives must agree with the noun they modify. With comparisons, there are two nouns and the adjective should agree with the first one (the subject of the verb).

2.7.b. To be able to form UNEQUAL comparisons of nouns and adjectives

To form UNEQUAL comparisons (comparaciones desiguales) in English, we usually use "more (or less/fewer) ... than". In Spanish, this is replaced with forms of "más (o menos) ... que". Here are the formulas for UNEQUAL comparisons.

UNEQUAL Comparisons of:	Español	Inglés
Nouns	más / menos (sustantivo) que	more / less (noun) than Adjectives	más / menos (adjetivo) que	more / less (adjective) than (adjective) + er than

Español	Inglés
Él tiene más dinero que ella.	He has more money than she does.
Ella toma menos clases que nosotros.	She takes fewer classes than we do.
Compro más libros que tú.	I'm buying more books than you.
Ellos beben menos café que yo.	They drink less coffee than I do.

Note:

In English, we use "fewer" for things that can be counted individually (classes) and "less" for things that are measured (coffee), abstract ideas (happiness), and nouns without common plural forms (money).

Adjetivos / Adjectives

Español	Inglés
Nosotros somos más activos que él.	We are more active than he is.
Tú eres más bonita que ella.	You are prettier than she is.
Ellos son menos estudiosos que yo.	They are less studious than I am.
Yo estoy más aburrido que ellas.	I am more bored than she is.

Note:

Notice how some translations have different structures in English. Don't forget that in Spanish adjectives must agree with the nouns they modify.

Adjetivos irregulares / Irregular Adjectives

As in English, there are some adjectives that are irregular. For example, we do not say: "she is more good than someone else". Instead, we say: "she is better". Fortunately, some irregular adjectives are the same in Spanish and English. Study the following irregular adjectives.

Español	Inglés
más bueno/a/os/as → mejor/mejores	more good → better
más malo/a/os/as → peor/peores	more bad → worse
more joven/es → menor/menores	more young → younger
más viejo/a/os/as → mayor/mayores	more old → older

MODELO:

Mi clase de biología es mejor que mi clase de matemáticas.

Este equipo es peor que el otro equipo.

Mi primo es menor que yo.

Mis padres son mayores que tus padres.

2.7.c. To be able to form superlatives

The superlatives (los superlativos) are a special type of comparison. Superlatives express "the best", "the most", "the worst", etc. of a given set. Superlatives can be formed with most adjectives. Always use the definite article to create superlatives. Here is the formula for creating superlatives.

SUPERLATIVES of:	Español	Inglés
Adjectives	el/la/los/las (noun) más (adjetivo) de (grupo)	the most (adjective) (noun) of/in (group)

MODELO:

*Bill Gates es la persona más rica del mundo.
 El mandarín es el idioma más difícil de todos.
 Las secoyas son los árboles más altos del mundo.
 El fútbol es el deporte más popular de todos.*

Note:

The adjective must agree with the noun it modifies, not necessarily the subject of the sentence.

Superlativos irregulares / Irregular Superlatives

Mejor/peor usually precede the nouns.

Irregular Superlatives of:	Español	Inglés
mejor / mejores	el/la/los/las mejor/mejores (noun) de (grupo)	the best (noun) of/in (group)
peor / peores	el/la/los/las peor/peores (noun) de (grupo)	the worst (noun) of/in (group)

Menor/mayor do not require the nouns.

Irregular Superlatives of:	Español	Inglés
menor / menores	el/la/los/las menor/menores de (grupo)	the youngest of/in (group)
mayor / mayores	el/la/los/las mayor/mayores de (grupo)	the oldest of/in (group)

MODELO:

*Kevin Durant es el mejor jugador de básquetbol este año.
 Los estudiantes de español son los mejores estudiantes de HSU.
 Los exámenes de química son los peores exámenes de todos los exámenes.
 Meryl Streep es la mejor actriz de todas.
 Mi hija es la menor de la familia.
 Mi madre es la mayor de la familia.*

2.8: Para estudiar en casa

2.8 Learning Objectives:

- a. To understand the culture behind Spanish last names
- b. To review and practice what you learned in 2.1-2.8

Introduction:

As we come to the end of the second chapter, we will continue our discussion of families with particular emphasis on the cultural system of using two last names in the Spanish-speaking world. In addition, before moving on to the next chapter, we will review the language and culture topics that were covered in chapter 2 and complete a capstone project.

2.8.a To understand the culture behind Spanish last names

Read out loud the following passage a few times. Try to focus on the pronunciation of the letters and the correct syllable stress. Use the context of the passage to help you understand any words that you do not know. If you cannot figure out what a word means by using the context, look up the meaning. There are questions and exercises based on this passage in the "2.8: Para Practicar en Casa" section below.

El sistema de dos apellidos

Los apellidos indican las relaciones familiares con nuestros antepasados. Indican que somos parte de unos grupos específicos (las familias de nuestros padres). En muchos países donde se habla español es muy común que las personas tengan dos apellidos. El sistema de dos apellidos es el resultado de muchos procesos históricos.

En los Estados Unidos es más común sólo mantener el apellido del padre. Entonces, ¿por qué tener dos apellidos? Pues, la respuesta es simple: tenemos el apellido del padre y el apellido de la madre. Juntos los dos apellidos documentan la descendencia familiar de la familia del padre y de la madre también.

Hoy día, hay debate sobre el orden de los apellidos, pero típicamente cuando nace un bebé en un país hispanohablante, recibe dos apellidos, el primero es del padre y el segundo es de la madre. Considerar este ejemplo.

Juan es el hijo de Pepe y Rosa. Pepe se llama Pepe Martínez Quiroz y Rosa se llama Rosa González Montoya. Entonces, el nombre entero de Juan es: Juan Martínez González.

C. Repaso (Review)

Review the chapter 2 learning objectives again and repeat the exercises in any section that you think you need to practice more.

D. Chapter 2 Capstone Project

The family tree project serves as the culminating project for Chapter 2 - La familia. It is the synthesis of everything we have covered so far, including a variety of information from vocabulary to the proper use of verbs, nouns, and adjectives. This project will help you study for your oral exam as well as prepare you for the oral final at the end of the semester.

Materials- For this project you will need pictures of your family “members”. IF you do not have access to pictures, or they are too personal, you MAY use appropriate imagery that represents them (i.e., if I don’t have a picture of mi hermano and he likes football, barbecuing, and spending time with friends, I can use a picture(s) from the internet that depicts this). A minimum of 1 image per “family member” is required.

Mode of delivery- This presentation should be completed using Power Point or Google Slides. You will present yours in class, so be sure to practice your script.

Instructions - Prepare a multimedia biographical presentation of “your” family. Please:

- Present a minimum of 6 “family” members, including yourself, your grandparents, parents/ guardians, siblings, or pets.
- Describe each “member” of your family following the models provided below.
- Be sure to include sufficient variation in your descriptions of people so that person A doesn’t sound like person B (even if they are twins!)
- Pets may only count as 1 person.
- IF your family is very large (i.e., due to divorce, remarriage, many siblings, etc.), you may choose to group your family members in a way that you can present them all. OR you may choose to present only a select few.
- IF someone has passed away, you may still include that person.
- IF your family is unknown to you, too personal of a topic, or you would - for any reason - prefer NOT to discuss your family, it is possible to create a presentation based on:
 - a. la familia de otra persona (i.e., Frida Kahlo, Diego Rivera, un buen amig@, etc.)
 - b. la familia ideal - how you might “choose” your family based on your own personality or interests.

Content- Presentations should include the following information:

¿Cómo se llama?

Éste es (mi padre). Se llama (John).

¿Cómo es?

Es (profesión). Trabaja en (lugar).

Es (adjetivo), (adjetivo) y (adjetivo).

¿Cuántos años tiene?

Tiene (número) años.

¿Dónde vive y con quién(es)?

Vive en (lugar) con (personas).

¿Qué le gusta(n)?

Le gusta(n)...

¿Qué no le gusta(n)?

No le gusta(n)

- Sin casarse, ¿cómo se apellida tu madre?

In a small group, discuss the two last name system. How is it beneficial? Are there any disadvantages? Should this be more common? Why or why not?

3.2 Learning Objectives:

- a. To learn what diphthongs are, how they are formed, and why they are important
- b. To understand how diphthongs are broken
- c. To be able to correctly pronounce words with and without diphthongs

Introduction:

The focus of this section is diphthongs. Diphthongs occur when two vowels are pronounced together as one syllable. This is the last major lesson on pronunciation.

3.2.a. To learn what diphthongs are, how they are formed, and why they are important

In English, we sometimes pronounce two vowels together. Carefully pronounce each of the following English words.

sound	three fair	load
bear	weird

How many syllables does each word have, two or one? In these examples, two vowels are linked to form one syllable, a diphthong. If, when you pronounce these words, you split the diphthongs, they will not sound correct. Try it.

The same is true in Spanish; some vowels must be linked to form diphthongs and others cannot form diphthongs. Besides correctly forming the syllables of a word, understanding diphthongs will allow you to correctly stress all words as discussed in 2.3. A good understanding of diphthongs will allow you to correctly pronounce all words in Spanish, which is why diphthongs are so important.

The rules for diphthongs (los diptongos) are relatively easy in Spanish. Without getting into linguistic terminology, we can say that there are two types of vowels: strong vowels and weak vowels. Here is a way for you to remember which is which.

U and I are weak.

Not a very positive affirmation, but it does help to remember which vowels form diphthongs. Only the weak vowels form diphthongs, only u and i (and sometimes y). Here is the main rule of diphthongs in Spanish:

Any weak vowel next to any another vowel (weak or strong) will form a diphthong.

The order of the vowels does not matter (strong/weak or weak/strong). Any combination of two vowels with at least one weak vowel will form diphthongs, but two strong vowels do not. When a strong vowel is linked with a weak vowel, the main stress will be on the stronger vowel. When two weak vowels are linked, the main stress will be on the last vowel. Here are some examples of Spanish words with diphthongs.

aire	agua
reina	fuego
Luis	ciudad
radio	cuota

Note:

The letter h is not pronounced. Therefore, the letter h between two vowels does not block the formation of diphthongs. For example, ahumar, prohibido, and ahijado form diphthongs around the letter h.

When two strong vowels are next to each other, they do NOT form diphthongs. Here are a few examples:

león	alcohol	poseer	caer
------	---------	--------	------

Sometimes a strong vowel can be surrounded by weak vowels. This is called a triphthong (triptongo). Here are some examples.

cambiáis	Uruguay	miau	semiautomático
----------	---------	------	----------------

Sometimes the letter u is silent. This occurs in the following combinations: gue, gui, que, and qui. Since the u is silent, it does not combine with the other letters to form a triptongo. The other letters may form a diptongo. Here are some examples.

guerra	guiando	quema	quiero

3.2.b. To understand how diphthongs are broken

Diphthongs form automatically any time at least one weak vowel is next to another vowel. If the weak vowel is stressed, then it will require a written accent mark (tilde) and the diphthong will be broken. Notice how, in the following examples, the tilde occurs on the weak vowel. Pronounce each word carefully, separating the syllables and stressing the one with the tilde.

día	Raúl
reír	reúno
oído	evalúo

However, if the tilde is on the strong vowel (the one that is stressed anyway), the diphthong is NOT broken. Notice how, in the following examples, the tilde occurs on the strong vowel. Pronounce each word carefully, maintaining the diphthongs.

habláis	cuándo
también	quién
nación	acentuó

Note:

When both vowels are weak, the tilde does not break the diphthong. This is not common.

3.2.c. To be able to correctly pronounce words with and without diphthongs

Let's quickly review the pronunciation rules that were covered in 2.2.

Pronunciation Rules for Syllable Stress

1. Words in Spanish that have no written accent and end in a vowel, n, or s always stress the second-to-last (penultimate) syllable.
2. Words that don't have a written accent and end in any other consonant (other than n or s) always stress the last syllable.
3. Words with written accents (tildes) always stress the syllable with the tilde.

As you can see, to apply these rules you must be able to correctly separate words into syllables and to do that, you must understand when diphthongs are formed and when diphthongs are broken. All words in Spanish follow these three pronunciation rules.

Here are some words with diphthongs that follow rule number 1 above.

aula	Europa	tierra	aunque
------	--------	--------	--------

Here are some words with diphthongs that follow rule number 2 above.

ciudad	enviar	sexual	especial
--------	--------	--------	----------

Here are some words with diphthongs that follow rule number 3 above.

educación	veintitrés	Juárez	automóvil
-----------	------------	--------	-----------

Complete 3.3 Para Estudiar en Casa and 3.3 Para Practicar en Casa.

3.3: Para estudiar en casa

3.3 Learning Objectives:

- To learn the present tense conjugation of the verb ir
- To be able to use ir to tell to where someone is going and the contraction al
- To be able to use ir to tell what someone is going to do

Introduction:

In this section, we will focus on two uses of a verb common and important verb: ir. We will learn the full present tense conjugation of ir and be able to use it with locations to tell where someone is going and with verbs to tell what someone is going to do.

3.3.a. To learn the present tense conjugation of the verb ir

Ir is the infinitive form of a verb in Spanish. In English, ir means "to go".

Ir is an -ir verb, but it is also irregular. The endings are actually similar to an -ar verb (like hablar), but the stem changes by adding the letter v.

Singular		Plural
yo	voy	nosotros/as	vamos
tú	vas	vosotros/as	vais
él	va	ellos	van
ella		ellas
usted		ustedes

Note:

Notice that the endings are almost exactly like the verb estar, except that there are no tildes. However, with estar, the tildes are required to force the stress to be on the syllables that are stressed naturally in ir (therefore, the same syllable is stressed, but the tildes are not required).

Carefully study and practice saying out loud the full conjugation of ir.

Note:

The nosotros conjugation, vamos, is often used as an equivalent of "Let's go".

3.3.b. To be able to use ir to tell to where someone is going and the contraction al

One of the uses of ir is to express to where someone is going. We use ir with the preposition a (to) in order to ask and state: to where someone is going. As with other present tense conjugations, the present tense of ir can refer to habitual, in progress, or near future actions. Consider the following sentences.

Pregunta	Respuesta
¿Adónde vas?	Voy a mi casa.
¿Adónde va tu mejor amigo?	Va a la biblioteca.
¿Adónde van los estudiantes?	Van a la playa.

Whenever we state a destination, we must use the preposition a. As in the above questions, the a can be attached to dónde to ask "to where". In the following examples, notice how the word "to" can be omitted in English, but a cannot be omitted in Spanish.

Spanish	English
Vamos a casa.	We're going home.
Los niños van adentro .	The boys are going inside.

In both English and Spanish, we often use the definite article when stating a destination. Consider the following examples.

Spanish	English
Van a la biblioteca.	They're going to the library.
Va a la playa.	She's going to the beach.
Vas a las montañas.	You're going to the mountains.

Note:

Whenever the preposition a comes directly before the masculine singular definite article (el), a contraction occurs.

$$a + el = al$$

This is similar to the other Spanish contraction: de + el = del. Both of these contractions only occur with the masculine singular definite article. Consider the following examples.

Spanish	English
Voy al parque.	I'm going to the park.
Vas a la tienda.	You're going to the store.
Va a las Islas Canarias.	He's going to the Canary Islands.
Van a los lugares más interesantes del mundo.	They're going to the most interesting places in the world.

3.3.c. To be able to use ir to tell what someone is going to do

Ir can be used with infinitives of other verbs to tell what someone is going to do in the near future. The structure is similar to English. In both languages, we use the verb "to go" (ir) and the infinitive of another verb (el infinitivo). Some verbs always require a preposition in order to be used with other verbs. This is the case with ir, we must always use the preposition a. Here are a few examples:

Español	Inglés
Voy a hablar.	I am going to speak.
Vas a comer.	You are going to eat.
Ellas van a escribir.	They are going to write.
¿Vais a bailar?	Are you going to dance?

Note:

We have already used the infinitive of the verb hacer (to do). This is a useful verb for asking what someone is going to do. Notice that you can answer by replacing the verb hacer with any other infinitive.

Pregunta	Respuesta
¿Qué vas a hacer hoy?	Voy a asistir a clase.
¿Qué vas a hacer este fin de semana?	Voy a trabajar este fin de semana.
¿Qué van a hacer tus amigos mañana?	Van a estudiar .

If your answer contains hacer, then you are limited to how you can finish the sentence.

Pregunta	Respuesta
¿Qué vas a hacer hoy?	Voy a hacer la tarea.
¿Qué vas a hacer este fin de semana?	Voy a hacer la cama.
¿Qué van a hacer tus amigos mañana?	Van a hacer mucho.

Here are some useful words and expressions to use with the future.

Español	Inglés
mañana	tomorrow (also morning)
esta tarde	this afternoon
esta noche	this evening/tonight
en dos días/semanas/meses	in two days/weeks/months
más tarde	later

3.4 Learning Objectives:

- To be able to conjugate hacer, poner, salir, traer and caer
- To understand e → ie stem-changing verbs
- To learn new e → ie stem-changing verbs

Introduction:

In this section, we will focus on new verbs. Some are irregular in the yo form, others are stem-changing. Once we understand how stem changing verbs work, we will learn a list of new verbs and practice conjugating them in the present tense.

3.4.a. To be able to conjugate hacer, poner, salir, traer, and caer

*¿Cuántos hermanos tienes?
Tengo 3 hermanos.*

Tener is irregular in the first person (yo), because it has the letter g as part of the conjugation. The following verbs share this special irregularity.

Spanish	yo	English
hacer	hago	to do, to make poner	pongo	to put
salir	salgo	to go out
traer	traigo	to bring
caer	caigo	to fall

Note:

Traer and caer have an additional irregularity in the yo form, because of the letter i, which forms part of a diphthong.

The conjugations for the rest of subject pronouns the same as regular -er or -ir verbs, like comer or vivir. Here are the complete conjugations of these verbs.

Hacer	Poner	Salir	Traer	Caer
hago	pongo	salgo	traigo	caigo
haces	pones	sales	traes	caes
hace	pone	sale	trae	cae
hacemos	ponemos	salimos	traemos	caemos
hacéis	ponéis	salís	traéis	caéis
hacen	ponen	salen	traen	caen

 ¿Dónde pones tus libros?

 ¿Siempre traes los libros a clase?
 Sí, siempre traigo los libros a clase.

3.4.b. To understand e → ie stem-changing verbs

Verbs ending in -ar, -er, and -ir can be stem-changing. The endings follow regular -ar, -er, and -ir verbs. There are three types of stem-changes (e → ie, e → i, and o → ue). In this section, we will focus on e → ie.

Notice how the e of the infinitive becomes ie in all of the conjugations except nosotros and vosotros. This pattern has led some to call these "boot" verbs.

pensar (ie)* to think

pienso	pensamos
piensas	pensáis
piensa	piensan

Tener is an e → ie stem-changing verb, although tener is also irregular in the yo form. Similarly, venir (to come) is an e → ie stem-changing verb that is irregular in the yo form, just like tener.

venir (ie)* to come

vengo	venimos
vienes	venís
viene	vienen

MODELO:

¿Vienes a clase todos los días?
 Sí, vengo a clase todos los días.
 ¿Piensas en español?
 Sí, a veces pienso en español.

Complete 3.5 Para Estudiar en Casa and 3.5 Para Practicar en Casa.

3.5: Para estudiar en casa

3.5 Learning Objectives:

- To understand o → ue stem-changing verbs
- To learn new o → ue stem-changing verbs

Introduction:

In this section, we will learn new verbs with another type of stem-change, o → ue stem-changing verbs. We will acquire new verbs and use the days of the week to practice the new verbs.

3.5.a. To understand o → ue stem-changing verbs

You have already learned how stem-changing verbs work. Remember "the boot?" There are stem changes for all subjects, except nosotros and vosotros. Just like we saw in 3.4 with pensar and other e → ie stem-changing verbs, -ar, -er, and -ir verbs can feature this new stem-change (o-ue) for all conjugations, except nosotros and vosotros.

volver (ue) to return somewhere

vuelvo	volvemos
vuelves	volvéis
vuelve	vuelven

There is one verb that is considered part of this group. However, there is no letter o in the infinitive. The verb jugar changes from u → ue. It is the only commonly used Spanish verb with this specific stem-change.

jugar (ue) to play

juego	jugamos
juegas	jugáis
juega	jugan

Jugar is often used with the preposition a. There is no equivalent in English.

Español	Inglés
Juega al baloncesto.	He's playing basketball.
Jugamos al ajedrez.	We're playing chess.

3.5.b. To learn new o → ue stem-changing verbs

The following are important o → ue stem-changing verbs. Usually, when these verbs are presented they are followed by (ou) to indicate the stem change.

contar (ue)	to count / to tell costar (ue)	to cost
dormir (ue)	to sleep
devolver (ue)	to return something encontrar (ue)	to find
jugar (ue)	to play
mostrar (ue)	to show
poder (ue)	to be able to probar (ue)	to taste / to try recordar (ue)	to remember
soñar (ue)	to dream
volver (ue)	to return someplace

Note:

As mentioned above, jugar is an exception, because the u of the stem changes ue, not the o. Soñar is often used with the preposition con to mean: to dream "about." Sueña con viajar = He dreams about traveling.

Poder is frequently used with infinitives of other verbs: Puedo nadar bien = I can swim well.

3.6: Para estudiar en casa

3.6 Learning Objectives:

- To learn e → i stem-changing verbs
- To be able to conjugate and understand the uses of ver and oír
- To review e → ie, o → ue, and e → i stem changing verbs

Introduction:

In this section, we cover the last type of stem-change: e → i. We will consider the subtle differences between ver/mirar and oír/escuchar. Since you have learned all three types of stem-changing verbs, we will practice all of them together.

3.6.a. To learn e → i stem-changing verbs

e → i stem-changing verbs work just like the other stem-changing verbs that you have already learned. Remember that the endings are regular and there is no stem-change for the nosotros and vosotros forms. This is the only stem-change that also affects the present participle (pidiendo, repiendo, consiguiendo etc.)

pedir (i) to ask for

vido	pedimos
vides	pedís
vide	piden

Reír and sonreír require tildes.

reír (i) to laugh

río	reímos
ríes	reís
ríe	ríen

The following are important e → i stem-changing verbs. Usually, when these verbs are presented they are followed by (i) to indicate the stem change.

Español	Inglés
competir (i)	to compete
conseguir (i)	to get / to obtain corregir (i)	to correct
medir (i)	to measure

pedir (i)	to ask for reír (i)	to laugh
repetir (i)	to repeat seguir (i)	to follow / to continue servir (i)	to serve
sonreír (i)	to smile

Note:

You may notice some patterns within this list of verbs. For example, if you know how to conjugate seguir, then you will know how to conjugate conseguir. The same is true with reír and sonreír. Another repeating pattern within these verbs is: -edir in medir/pedir and -etir in competir/repetir.

The verb corregir is irregular in the yo form, because the sound of the letter g changes depending on the vowel that follows. Pronounce the following: corregir, corrijo and *corrigo. The g changes to j for the yo form in order to preserve the sound of the infinitive.

MODELO:

En este restaurante, siempre pido la pizza, pero mi hermana pide la ensalada.

Sí, la pizza que sirven es excelente.

Yo corrijo mi tarea y el profesor corrige los exámenes.

Repito que es importante repetir las prácticas.

El cómico sonrío y el público ríe mucho.

El carpintero mide dos veces antes de cortar.

Los estudiantes siguen las instrucciones.

3.6.b. To be able to conjugate and understand the uses of ver and oír

Ver and oír are slightly irregular. Their counterparts, mirar and escuchar, are regular conjugations.

ver = to see	oír = to hear
veo	oigo
ves	oyes
ve	oye
vemos	oyemos
veis	oís
ven	oyen

Note:

As you can see, ver is only irregular in the yo form, because the letter e is not dropped. Oír is also irregular in the yo form, like tengo, pongo, and traigo. In addition, the i is not dropped, except in the vosotros form, and it becomes a y (the Greek i = i griega). This also occurs in the present participle: oyendo.

As always, it is best to practice pronouncing the conjugations of new verbs several times.

In English, seeing and hearing are more passive, while watching and listening are more active. Occasionally, these verbs are interchangeable in English, but most of the time, they are not. Consider the following examples:

Passive	Active
I see the television.	I watch the television.
You hear a noise.	You listen to a noise.

It is more common in Spanish that ver and mirar can be used interchangeably, the same for oír and escuchar. Be aware that this is the case, so that you can appropriately understand the difference from the context, but it is recommended that you use them as you would in English. Consider the following examples; think about what they mean and how you might translate them to English.

MODELO:

Miro la televisión por la noche.
Veo un barco en el mar.
Miran la Serie Mundial cada año.
Ven a su amiga caminando en la calle.
Escucho las noticias en la radio.
Oigo el ruido de los vecinos.
Escuchamos las instrucciones.
Oímos la música toda la noche.

3.6.c. To review e→ie, o→ue, and e→i stem changing verbs

The following is a summary of information related to stem-changing verbs in Spanish.

There are three types of stem-changing verbs and the stem-change is usually indicated in parenthesis following the infinitive of the verb.

e → ie	o → ue	e → i
querer (ie)	poder (ue)	servir (i)

Stem-changes in the present tense do not affect the nosotros or vosotros forms. These are sometimes called "boot" verbs. The endings are the same as regular -ar, -er, and -ir verbs.

cerrar* (ie) to close

cierro	cerramos
cierras	cerráis
cierra	cierran

Stem-changes can be combined with other types of irregular verb forms.

tener (ie) to have

tengo	tenemos
tienes	tenéis
tiene	tienen

A few require tildes.

sonreír (i) to smile

sonrío	sonreímos
sonríes	soneís
sonríe	sonríen

It is important to pronounce the conjugations of these verbs in order to learn the stem-changes.

Here is a complete list of all of the important stem-changing verbs presented thus far.

e→ie	o→ue	e→i cerrar (ie)	almorzar (ue)	competir (i) comenzar (ie)	contar (ue)	conseguir (i)
empezar (ie)	costar (ue)	corregir (i) entender(ie)	dormir (ue)	medir (i) pensar (ie)	devolver (ue)	pedir (i) perder (ie)	encontrar (ue)	reír (i) preferir (ie)	jugar (ue)	repetir (i) querer (ie)	mostrar (ue)	seguir (i) sentir	poder (ue)	servir (i) tener (ie)	probar (ue)	sonreír (i)
venir (ie)	recordar (ue)	---
---	soñar (ue)	---
---	volver (ue)	---

3.7: Para estudiar en casa

3.7 Learning Objectives:

- To understand the concept and structure of pronominal verbs
- To learn important pronominal verbs
- To be able to appropriately use common time-related expressions

Introduction:

In this lesson, we will learn about a new type of verb, the pronominal verb. The structure is straightforward, but the concept is often confusing to English speakers. You will learn many important pronominal verbs, many having to do with your daily routine. Lastly, we will practice some prepositions of time, so that you can tell the order of the things that you do during your daily routine.

3.7.a. To understand the concept and structure of pronominal verbs

You have already learned some conjugations of at least one pronominal verb. Do you remember how to say, "What's your name"?

¿Cómo te llamas?

Llamarse is a pronominal verb. That means that when you conjugate it, it has an extra pronoun. These are sometimes called "se" verbs, because when they are presented in the infinitive form, the pronoun "se" is added to the end, as in "llamarse".

Pronominal verbs can be -ar, -er, or -ir verbs. When we conjugate these verbs, there are always three elements, 1) the subject, 2) the pronoun, and 3) the conjugation. In order to be grammatically correct, all three elements must agree. Although all three elements must refer to the same subject, the subject is not always explicitly stated.

el sujeto	el pronombre	la conjugación
yo	me	llamo
tú	te	llamas
él, ella, usted	se	llama
nosotros/as	nos	llamamos
vosotros/as	os	llamáis
ellos, ellas, ustedes	se	llaman

In Spanish, we specify the subject, as needed, according to the context, as was discussed in 1.4. The subject of "me llamo" must be "yo", therefore it is normally omitted.

Pronominal verbs can be stem-changing verbs.

acostarse (uo): to lay down / to go to bed

me acuesto	nos acostamos
te acuestas	os acostáis
se acuesta	se acuestan

Sometimes, non-pronominal verbs have a pronominal counterpart that has a different meaning. The conjugations are the same; the only difference is the pronoun. Notice the difference in meaning between the following non-pronominal and pronominal verbs.

Español	Inglés
dormir (ue)	to sleep
dormirse (ue)	to fall asleep
llamar	to call
llamarse	to be named
poner	to put, to place
ponerse	to put on (oneself)

Pronominal or Reflexive?

Pronominal verbs are sometimes called "reflexive" verbs by teachers and textbooks. Reflexive is when the action is received by the doer of the action. The equivalent pronouns in English are: "myself, yourself, himself, herself, itself, ourselves, yourselves, and themselves", and so they are also referred to as "self" verbs. In English, we do not always use this pronoun, because it is understood by the context. For example, if you say: "I shaved", it is understood that you shaved yourself. If you shaved someone else, you would add a pronoun to indicate that, like "I shaved him".

It is true that some pronominal verbs are reflexive, but not all. There are many examples of this: Does a book call itself anything? Llamarse is not reflexive, it just has an extra pronoun. In fact it is the other way around. All reflexive verbs are pronominal, but not all pronominal verbs are reflexive. To call all pronominal verbs reflexive is like saying all dogs are chihuahuas, instead of saying all chihuahuas are dogs. Therefore, it is better not to think of these verbs as reflexives, rather as pronominal or se verbs, verbs that have an extra pronoun.

The Placement of Pronouns

These pronouns usually go before the conjugated verb. Consider the following examples.

MODELO:

Me llamo María y mi hermano se llama Tomás.

Me acuesto y pronto me duermo.

Cuando tengo frío, me pongo una chaqueta.

When the structure of a sentence contains two verbs, there are often two possibilities:
1) before the conjugated verb and 2) attached to the infinitive.

1. Before the Conjugated Verb	2. Attached to the Infinitive
Me voy a dormir.	Voy a dormirme.
Me quiero acostar.	Quiero acostarme.

3.7.b. To learn important pronominal verbs

The following list of common pronominal verbs contains many verbs that are related to your daily routine, specifically, things we do everyday.

Español	Inglés
acostarse (ue)	to lay down / to go to bed
afeitarse	to shave (oneself)
bañarse	to bathe/to take a bath
cepillarse los dientes/el pelo	to brush one's teeth/hair
despedirse (i)	to say good-bye
despertarse (ie)	to wake up
divertirse (ie)	to have fun
ducharse	to shower
graduarse	to graduate
lavarse las manos/el pelo	to wash one's hands/hair
levantarse	to get up
llamarse	to be named
maquillarse	to put makeup on (oneself)
peinarse	to comb one's hair
ponerse	to put on (oneself)
quedarse	to stay
quitarse	to take off
secarse	to dry (oneself)
sentarse (ie)	to sit down
sentirse (ie)	to feel
vestirse (i)	to get dressed

MODELO:

En la mañana, me despierto a las 7:30. Me quedo acostada unos 10 minutos. Después, me levanto. Voy al baño y me cepillo los dientes. Me quito la pijama. Me ducho y me afeito. Antes de vestirme, me seco y me maquillo. Desayuno en la cocina. Me cepillo el pelo, me pongo la chaqueta y salgo para la universidad. Después de mis clases, almuerzo con mis amigos. En la tarde, me siento cansada. Vuelvo a casa y me acuesto un rato. Más tarde, salgo con mis amigas y nos divertimos mucho.

En la noche, después de despedirme de mis amigas, regreso a casa. Me siento a estudiar en la sala. Luego, me quito la ropa, me pongo la pijama. Me quito el maquillaje, me lavo la cara y me acuesto. Finalmente, me duermo rápidamente.

Note:

Since the pronoun associated with the verbs often indicates who receives the action of the verb, we use definite articles in Spanish instead of the possessive adjectives:

Español	Inglés
me cepillo los dientes	I brush my teeth
me lavo la cara	I wash my face

3.7.c. To be able to appropriately use common time-related expressions

In this chapter, you have studied many new verbs. Additionally, you will be discussing your daily routine. In order to do so effectively, you need to know how to describe a series of activities. The following list of adverbs and time-related expressions will help you to describe, in order, the sequence of actions that make up your daily routine.

Español	Inglés
antes (de)	before
primero	first
segundo	second tercero	third
después (de)	afterwards/after por último	lastly
finalmente	finally
en seguida	immediately
muy pronto	very soon/quickly/right away
temprano	early
luego	later
más tarde	later
hasta	until
durante 2 horas/minutos/días	for 2 minutos/hours/days

MODELO:

Me despierto muy temprano. Primero me levanto. Segundo me quito el pijama y tercero me visto. En seguida voy a la cocina. Tomo un poco de café y leo el periódico, pero antes preparo mi almuerzo. Después, voy al baño y me cepillo los dientes durante 2 minutos. Por último me peino y finalmente estoy listo para ir a clase.

Some expressions can be used with other time references that you have already studied.

MODELO:

Después de las 7:30 tengo tiempo para estudiar. Antes de las 8:30 estoy lista para salir, pero no voy a la universidad hasta las 9.*

Some expressions can be used with the infinitive verb form. The only verb form that should follow a preposition (de, a, para, etc.) is the infinitive.

MODELO:

Estudio hasta terminar el capítulo. Antes de acostarme, me cepillo los dientes. Después de ponerme la pijama, me acuesto y me duermo.

Note:

In English, we would use the gerund (present participle) after a preposition (antes de acostarme = before laying down).

3.8 Learning Objectives:

- a. To learn about living conditions for young people in Spain
- b. To review what you learned in 3.1-3.8

Introduction:

In this chapter, we discussed our homes and daily routines. We will use an LTE (Letter To the Editor) sent to a Spanish newspaper to discuss current economic living conditions in Spain. Also, before moving on to chapter 4, we will review the language and culture topics from chapter 3 and complete a capstone project.

3.8.a. To learn about living conditions for young people in Spain

El País is a Spanish Newspaper. In August of 2005, Carolina Alguacil, a 27 year old woman, wrote an opinion piece titled: Yo soy "milleurista".

Yo soy "milleurista"

Follow the link to read the original letter in which she coined the term "milleurista". The letter describes the economic situation of her generation, highly educated individuals who could only find employment that would pay around 1000 euros per month (mil - eur -ista).

Unfortunately, high unemployment, low wages, and a cost of living equal to other countries in Europe where salaries are higher, have continued to deteriorate the situation. Carolina Alguacil was complaining about her generation's salaries, but since then, other terms, like "nimilleurista" (not even milleurista) and seiscientos eurista have been coined.

3.8.b. To review what you learned in 3.1-3.8

Tarea:

Complete 4.2 Para Estudiar en Casa and 4.2 Para Practicar en Casa.

4.2: Para estudiar en casa

4.2 Learning Objectives:

- To review the main use of the tilde
- To learn the other use of the tilde
- To recognize and understand common examples of some "twin" words

Introduction:

The focus of this section is the tilde that you sometimes see over a vowel in Spanish. The tilde has two functions. The main function of the tilde, as you have already learned in 2.2, is to change the stressed syllable of the word. The other use of the tilde is to indicate a difference between two words (twins) that are pronounced (and stressed) exactly the same.

4.2.a. To review the main use of the tilde

As you recall, every word in Spanish has one syllable that is stressed more than the rest. If there is no tilde, the only options are the last syllable or the second to last syllable, always based on the last letter of the word. The tilde breaks those rules and allows any syllable to be stressed. Here are the rules as summarized in 2.2.

Pronunciation Rules for Syllable Stress

- Words in Spanish that have no written accent and end in a vowel, n, or s always stress the second-to-last (penultimate) syllable.
- Words that don't have a written accent and end in any other consonant (other than n or s) always stress the last syllable.
- Words with written accents (tildes) always stress the syllable with the tilde.

With these rules and the understanding of diphthongs presented in 3.2, you should be able to correctly stress any word in Spanish. Below are examples of words that follow each rule; the stressed syllable is underlined.

Rule 1	Rule 2	Rule 3
abogado	nacionalidad	débil
práctico	error	práctico
viven	avestruz	practicó

4.2.b. To learn the other use of the tilde

The other use of the tilde, besides changing the normally stressed syllable of a word, is to indicate a different connotation of a word that is pronounced the same way. One of the twins does not have a tilde and the other twin does. They are pronounced exactly the same, but have different meanings. These words are called homonyms. You have already seen a number of these words.

Español	Inglés
tu	yours
tú	you
el	the
él	he que	that
qué	what
como	I eat
cómo	how

MODELO:

¿Tú tienes tu libro?

Sí.

Y tu hermano, ¿él tiene el otro?

Sí. ¿Qué quieres? ¿Quieres el libro que él tiene?

¿Puedes ver cómo yo como cuando tengo prisa?

Sí.

Note:

Although these words are pronounced exactly the same, they have different meanings. This difference in meaning is often understood by the context and, when written, indicated by the tilde.

Remember that interrogative words always have tildes when functioning as a question. Interrogative words can be used as direct or indirect questions (or exclamations), in which case, they have tildes. Carefully consider the following.

Direct Question	¿ Por qué vas?	Why are you going?
Indirect Question	No sabe por qué vas.	He doesn't know why you are going.

However, interrogative words can be used as relative pronouns, in which case, they are not questions and do not have tildes. Although the translation may be the same, the function is different. In this case, the functional difference is indicated by the tilde.

Relative Pronoun	Estudio cuando tengo un examen.	I study when I have an exam.

4.2.c. To recognize and understand common examples of some "twin" words

The following list of common examples of "twin" words will be very helpful as you develop your abilities in Spanish. Carefully study each word. Pronounce each one out loud and think about how you might use it in a sentence.

Español	Inglés
si / sí	if / yes
tu / tú	your / you
mi / mí	my / (to) me
el / él	the / he
te / té	to you / tea
se / sé	-self (pronoun) / I know (verb conj.)
mas / más	but / more

cual, cuales / cuál, cuáles	which (pronoun) / which?
cuando / cuándo	when (pronoun) / when?
cuanto / cuánto	how much (pronoun) / how much?

Notes:

a) Some of these verb forms (dé and sé) you have not learned yet. b) The rule requiring a tilde over sólo is no longer obligatory, it is only when there is ambiguity about if it means alone or lonely. c) Later in this chapter you will learn other twin words related to demonstrative adjectives that don't have tildes (esta casa = this house) and demonstrative pronouns that sometimes do (ésta = this one).

MODELO:

¿A ti te gusta el té o el café?

Use all you know about pronunciation and tildes to add any required tildes to the following sentences.

- Mario tiene solo un amigo. Por eso siempre esta tan solo.
- Mi tio compra regalos para mi.
- ¿Cantas tu en el concierto mañana? Tu voz me gusta mucho.

Cuando cuentas cuentos, cuenta cuantos cuentos cuentas;
porque si no cuentas cuantos cuentos cuentas,
no sabrás cuántos cuentos cuentas.

4.3 Learning Objectives:

- To learn about direct object pronouns and their function
- To learn about the "personal a"
- To be able to use direct object pronouns with infinitives

Introduction:

In this lesson, we will cover the direct object pronouns. You will learn to recognize them and use them in different situations. You will also learn about the "personal a".

4.3.a. To learn about direct object pronouns and their function

Pronouns take the place of nouns and the direct object (el complemento directo) of a sentence answers the question "what?" (or "who?") in relation to the verb. Consider the following example in English:

MODELO:

I see the ball.

What do I see?

The ball.

The ball is the direct object of the sentence.

I see it.

"It" is the pronoun that takes the place of the direct object (the ball).

The main function of the direct object pronoun is to avoid repetition. It is easier to say "it" than "the ball". However, the direct object is not always so simple. Think about this next example.

MODELO:

I see the big red ball that was kicked by the player into the stands, fell on the ground, and rolled back onto the field.

Can you identify the direct object of the sentence above? Using the direct object pronoun, we can reduce this example to the same sentence as the first example: "I see it", because "it" can also replace "the big red ball that was kicked by the player into the stands, fell on the ground, and rolled back onto the field".

The direct object can include many, many words and be replaced with just one pronoun. The direct object pronoun is used to avoid the repetition of the direct object, whether it be as short as "the ball" or as long as a paragraph.

The following chart shows all of the direct object pronouns in Spanish and English.

Español		English
me	nos	me	us
te	os	you	you
lo	los	it/him/you	them
la	las	it/her/you	them

Note:

Remember that "you" can refer to the following subject pronouns: informal singular (tú), informal plural (vosotros), formal singular (usted), and formal plural (ustedes). Here, however, "you" is the direct object pronoun, not the subject pronoun.

Do not confuse the subject and object. Remember, there is no "it" as a subject pronoun in Spanish.

In Spanish, the direct object pronoun usually goes right before the conjugated verb. In English, it usually goes after the conjugated verb.

In the following examples, "lo" or "it" refers to "el libro" or "the book".

Español	English
Lo tengo.	I have it.
¿Lo buscas?	Are you looking for it?
¿Dónde lo pones?	Where do you put it?
Lo pongo en el estante.	I put it in the bookshelf.

MODELO:

¿Haces la tarea?

Sí, la hago.

¿Haces los ejercicios en el libro de texto?

Sí, los hago.

¿Traes tu libro de texto a clase?

Sí, lo traigo.

¿Me buscas?

Sí, te busco.

¿Llevas tus pantalones favoritos?

Sí, los llevo.

When you begin working with direct object pronouns, at first you will want to ask yourself the following 2 questions:

1) What is the direct object of the sentence?

and

2) What is the pronoun for that direct object?

Eventually, however, with enough practice, it will become automatic, just like in English. You don't ask yourself those questions in order to use direct object pronouns in English. Do you?

4.3.b. To learn about the "personal a"

In Spanish, whenever the direct object of the sentence is a specific person (or something personified - like a pet), we have to use the "personal a" (la a personal). There is no equivalent in English. Notice the use of the "personal a" in the sentences on the right.

Not a Specific Person	Specific Person
Busco el libro.	Busco a mi amigo.
Ella visita Nueva York.	Ella visita a su familia.
Queremos más tiempo libre.	Queremos a nuestra madre.
Escuchamos la música.	Escuchamos a la profesora.
Encuentran la información.	Encuentran al profesor.*

Note:

*The "personal a" forms a contraction with "el", just like the "prepositional a".

The only exception is with the verb tener. With tener, we do not use the "personal a".

MODELO:

*Tengo dos hermanas y quiero mucho a mis hermanas.
Tengo un amigo. Veo a mi amigo frecuentemente.*

If the direct object does not refer to a specific person or persons, we do not use the "personal a".

MODELO:

*Busco un asistente con experiencia.
Quiero encontrar una persona amable.*

The "personal a" is used before "quién" and "quiénes" when these interrogative words refer to the direct object in a question.

MODELO:

*¿A quién buscas?
¿A quiénes visitan?*

When replacing the direct object with the direct object pronoun, the "personal a" is absorbed into pronoun.

MODELO:

*Busco a mi amigo. Lo busco porque tengo su teléfono.
Visito al médico. Lo visito porque necesito hablar con él.
¿Quieres a tu esposo?
Sí, lo quiero.*

4.3.c. To be able to use direct object pronouns with infinitives

In 3.7 we learned about the placement of pronouns for pronominal verbs. The placement of the direct object pronoun is the same. As we have seen in the previous examples, the direct object pronoun usually comes directly before the conjugated verb. Consider the following examples.

MODELO:

Busco a mi hermana. La busco.

Visito a mi familia. La visito.

Encuentras a tus amigos. Los encuentras.

However, if there is a construction with an infinitive, then you have two options: 1) before the conjugated verb or 2) attached to the infinitive.

If the phrase has an infinitive, your options are:

Before the Conjugated Verb	Attached to the Infinitive
La voy a buscar.	Voy a buscarla.
La quiero visitar.	Quiero visitarla.

In the rare case that you combine a direct object pronoun with a pronominal verb, the "reflexive" pronoun comes first and they cannot be separated. Placement options are the same as above. Consider the following examples for Me pongo los pantalones verdes.

Before the Conjugated Verb	Attached to the Infinitive
Me los pongo.	---
Me los quiero poner.	Quiero ponérmelos.

Note:

When attaching two pronouns to an infinitive, a tilde is required to maintain the original pronunciation (stressed syllable) of the word.

4.4 Learning Objectives:

- To learn the conjugations and uses of saber and conocer
- To learn the conjugations and uses of ser and estar
- To learn about adjectives that change meaning with ser and estar

Introduction:

In this lesson, we will study two pairs of verbs: saber/conocer and ser/estar. They are especially tricky for native English speakers, because, in English, we use one verb for each pair. However, even though we use one verb, there are subtle differences. Learning to appropriately choose the correct verb from these pairs will build your confidence and help you be better understood by native Spanish speakers.

4.4.a. To learn the conjugations and uses of saber and conocer

Saber and conocer both mean "to know" in English, but, as we shall see, they really are different ways of knowing. First, let's begin with the conjugations, then, we will take a closer look at the uses of these two verbs.

Saber	Conocer
sé	conozco
sabes	conoces
sabe	conoce
sabemos	conocemos
sabéis	conocéis
saben	conocen

Note:

The first person singular is irregular for both of these conjugations. Be sure to take the time to study these forms.

Essentially, saber is "to know" something, like a fact, and conocer is "to be familiar" with something, like a person or place. In English, we understand that we do not know a person or a city the same way that we know the answer to a simple math question.

Saber is also used with infinitive to say that one "knows how" to do something.

Think about what is being "known" in the following examples, because that is really what determines the use of saber or conocer.

MODELO:

Hola, Mario. ¿Tú conoces a Luis, el hermano de Verónica?
 No, pero conozco a Verónica y sé que son de Los Ángeles.
 Pues, yo voy a visitarlos este fin de semana, pero no conozco la ciudad. ¿La conoces tú?
 Sí. ¿Por qué?
 Porque quiero saber si quieres ir conmigo.
 Sí, y también sé llegar a la casa de Verónica.
 Perfecto. Prefiero salir temprano. ¿Sabes a qué hora vas a estar listo?
 A las 10 de la mañana. ¿Vale?
 Muy bien. Hasta pronto.
 Hasta luego.

In regards to ideas, concepts, and areas of study, the use of saber or conocer can be a little more complicated. Saber refers to learned skills or something you may have memorized. Conocer is used when you are acquainted or familiar with a topic, like a book, a movie, or an area of study. Think about the following examples.

MODELO:

¿Sabes dónde está el Museo del Prado en Madrid?
 No. No conozco el museo, pero conozco un poco la ciudad de Madrid.
 Bueno, tienes que conocerlo. En el museo hay muchas pinturas y esculturas famosas.
Conozco la historia de España, pero no sé cuáles obras están en el museo.
 ¿Conoces las pinturas de Velázquez?
 No, no las conozco, pero sé que es de la misma época que Cervantes. ¿Conoces las obras de Cervantes?
 Sí, conozco el Quijote y las Novelas Ejemplares.
 Yo no conozco sus obras, pero sé que es un autor muy famoso. ¿Sabes por qué?
 Sí, porque muchas personas en el mundo conocen sus obras.
 Bueno, de literatura no sé nada. De las matemáticas, sé mucho.

4.4.b. To learn more about the differences between the uses of ser and estar

You have already learned the conjugations of two irregular Spanish verbs that mean "to be": ser and estar. For review, here are the conjugations.

Ser	Estar
soy	estoy
eres	estás
es	está
somos	estamos
sois	estáis
son	están

Please review the active vocabulary for adjectives with ser in 1.4.d and adjectives with estar in 2.5.b. The best way to describe the main differences between ser and estar is to say that ser refers to characteristics and estar refers to conditions. Below is a detailed summary of the uses of ser and estar.

Use Ser to Describe Inherent Characteristics, like:	Examples:
Inherent characteristics or personality	Es inteligente. Es alta. Es amable.
Profession	Somos estudiantes. Son abogados.
Relationships	Es la mamá de ella.
Political affiliations	Él es muy conservador; ella es demócrata.
Religion	Soy musulmán. Eres judía.
Nationality	Son españoles.
Member of a group	Es uno de los estudiantes de la clase.
Origin	Sois de Los Estados Unidos.
Material	El anillo es de oro.
Price	¿Cuánto es? Son $20 dólares.
Destination	Este regalo es para mi hermana.

Note:

With professions, the definite article not used.

Other Uses of Ser include:	Examples:
Time	Son las 2:20. La clase es a las 3.
Generalizations	Es importante estudiar. Es interesante que...
Location of Events (not physical location)	La fiesta es en la casa de María.

Note:

Events do not occupy space like physical objects. Use ser to indicate location of events.

Use Estar to Describe Conditions, like:	Examples:
Mental State	Está enfocado. Está distraído.
Physical State/Position	La puerta está abierta. Está acostada.
Emotional State	Está enojada. Está frustrado.
Social, Legal, or Vital Status	Está divorciado. Está muerto.
Health	Está enfermo. Está de buen salud.
Activity	Está muy ocupado. Está de vacaciones.

Other Uses of Estar include:	Examples:
Physical Location	Está en la mesa. Está en California.
Temporal Location: months, seasons	Estamos en primavera. Estamos en febrero.
Progressive Tense*	Está estudiando. Están trabajando.
Idiomatic Expressions	Estar: de acuerdo, al tanto, al corriente

Notes:

a) For temporal location, only the nosotros/nosotras forms are used. b) You will learn the present progressive tense* in 4.7.

4.4.c. To learn about adjectives that change meaning with ser and estar

Some adjectives can be used to refer to characteristics, when used with ser, or conditions, when used with estar. Consider the following:

Adjective	Meaning with Ser	Meaning with Estar
alegre	happy	feeling happy
ciego	blind	blind to something (now)
guapo	handsome	looking handsome (now)
joven	young	looking young
pálido	pale skinned	looking pale (now)
perezoso	lazy	feeling lazy
viejo	old	looking old (now)

Other adjectives actually change their meaning depending on if they are used with ser or estar. Remember, we are still talking about characteristics and conditions. Consider the following:

Adjective	Meaning with Ser	Meaning with Estar
aburrido	boring	bored
borracho	drunkard, a drunk	drunk
enfermo	sickly, a sick person	sick
grave	serious	ill
listo	clever, smart	ready
malo	bad	ill
rico	rich, delicious	delicious
rojo	red	blushed
verde	green	unripe
vivo	clever	alive

There are other adjectives of both types listed above.

MODELO:

*Esta película no me gusta porque es aburrida y por eso estoy aburrida.
 Mi hijo es muy listo. Además, siempre está listo para aprender nueva información.
 Los dueños de este restaurante son ricos porque la comida que sirven es/está rica.
 Nancy está segura que viajar por avión es seguro.
 Normalmente, no son muy alegres, pero hoy es la boda de su hijo, y ellos están alegres.*

Note:

At certain times, estar can be used instead of ser for inherent characteristics to show an emotional one-time reaction. For example, when seeing New York City for the first time, one could say: "está grande". Thereafter, however, one knows that "es grande".

Complete 4.5 Para Estudiar en Casa and 4.5 Para Practicar en Casa.

4.5: Para estudiar en casa

4.5 Learning Objectives:

- To learn about indefinite and negative adverbs and their uses
- To learn about indefinite and negative nouns and their uses
- To learn about indefinite and negative adjectives and their uses

Introduction:

In this section, we will learn about indefinite and negative words. Although there are many ways to express these words, essentially, we are talking about "some" and "none", as in sometimes, something, never, and nothing. Used in different ways, indefinite and negative words can function as adverbs, nouns, and adjectives.

4.5.a. To learn about indefinite and negative adverbs and their uses

Adverbs modify verbs. You have been using some of these words since the first lessons of this book. Most of the adverbs presented here will refer to the frequency with which we perform the action of a verb. Study the following indefinite adverbs.

Adverbio indefinido	Indefinite Adverb
a veces	sometimes
de vez en cuando	once in a while
siempre	always
también	also

The following are negative adverbs. Notice that they are opposites of the indefinite adverbs.

Adverbio indefinido	Indefinite Adverb
nunca	never
jamás	never
tampoco	neither

Note:

Placement of adverbs in Spanish is flexible. As with other adverbs, indefinite and negative adverbs can go before or after the verb. With negatives, the adverb can take the place of the negation of the verb or be added to the end.

MODELO:

Nunca trabajo los viernes. / No trabajo nunca los viernes.

Tampoco. / Tampoco trabajo los viernes. / No trabajo los viernes tampoco.

A veces trabajo los lunes.

También. / También trabajo los lunes. / Trabajo los lunes también.

Llevo sandalias de vez en cuando. / De vez en cuando llevo sandalias. ¿Y tú?

No. Jamás llevo sandalias. / No. No llevo sandalias jamás.

Siempre llevo sandalias. / Llevo sandalias siempre.

4.5.b. To learn about indefinite and negative nouns and their uses

Nouns are persons, places, things, ideas. You have probably seen some of these before. We use indefinite nouns when we can not or do not want to specify someone or something. Study the following indefinite nouns.

Sustantivo indefinido	Indefinite Noun
alguien	someone, anyone
algo	something, anything

Negative nouns are the opposites of the indefinite nouns.

Sustantivo negativo	Negative Noun
nadie	nobody, no one, not anybody
nada	nothing, not anything

Note:

Remember that the letter d often sounds like the th. That is the way that nadie and nada should be pronounced.

As we have seen, nouns can function as subjects and as objects.

MODELO:

¿Alguien sabe la diferencia?

No, nadie sabe. / No, no sabe nadie.

¿Algo está en la mesa?

No, nada está en la mesa. / No, no está nada en la mesa.

¿Ves a alguien en el patio?

No, no veo a nadie.

¿Tienes algo en la lavadora?

No, no tengo nada en la lavadora.

Note:

The "personal a" is used with alguien and nadie even when the direct object is not a specific person. This is an exception.

4.5.c. To learn about indefinite and negative adjectives and their uses

Adjectives describe nouns. Indefinite adjectives are similar to indefinite articles in more than one way. Although adjectives usually come after the noun, like articles, indefinite and negative adjectives come before. Also, directly before a masculine singular noun, alguno becomes algún and ninguno becomes ningún (the tilde maintains the original stressed syllable).

Adjetivo indefinido	Indefinite Adjective
algún, alguna, algunos, algunas	any, some

Negative adjectives are the opposites of the indefinite adjectives.

Adjetivo negativo	Negative Adjective
ningún, ninguna, ningunos*, ningunas*	not any, none

Note:

In the case of negative adjectives, they are rarely used, because if there are "not any", there can be no plural. Rare exceptions occur when the noun must be plural*.

MODELO:

¿Algunos estudiantes quieren estudiar conmigo?

No, ningún estudiante quiere estudiar contigo.

¿Tenéis algunos pantalones de raya?

No, no tenemos ningunos pantalones de raya.*

¿Hay algunas blusas nuevas en tu clóset?

No, no hay ninguna blusa nueva.

¿Hay algunas medias que puedo usar?

No, no tengo ningunas medias que puedes usar.*

Mi amigo conoce algunas ciudades españolas.

No conoce ninguna ciudad española.*

¿Tienes algún libro de Stephen King?

No, no tengo ningún libro de Stephen King.

¿Tienen algunos trajes azules que puedo probarme?

Sí, tenemos trajes azules, pero no tenemos ningún traje marrón.

Note:

The indefinite and negative adjectives can also be used as pronouns. When used as a pronoun, the noun is not mentioned, for example: Tengo alguno. / Ponemos alguna. / Buscamos algunos. / Ves algunas. / No tenemos ninguno.* / No ponemos ninguna.*

Complete 4.6 Para Estudiar en Casa and 4.6 Para Practicar en Casa.

4.6: Para estudiar en casa

4.6 Learning Objectives:

- To be able to understand and use the demonstrative adjectives
- To be able to understand and use the demonstrative pronouns
- To be able to understand and use the neuter demonstrative pronouns

Introduction:

In this section, we will focus on demonstrative adjectives and pronouns. They are relatively easy to understand because there are exact English equivalents.

4.6.a. To be able to understand and use the demonstrative adjectives

*¿Quieres comprar esa falda?
No, quiero comprar este vestido.*

Demonstrative adjectives reflect gender and number, and are always accompanied by a noun. In English, there are two demonstrative pronouns: "this" and "that". In Spanish, there is an additional one, which is farther away, indicated by adding "over there".

The difference between "this", "that", and "that over there" refers to the distance from the speaker. It is relative to the specific situation, just like in English, meaning that when the perspective changes, so will the use of the adjective (i.e. "that book" can later be "this book").

The distance can be in space or time, for example: "these days" or "those days long ago".

Here are the demonstrative adjectives.

Adjetivos demostrativos	Demonstrative Adjectives
este, esta	this
estos, estas	these
ese, esa	that
esos, esas	those
aquel, aquella	that (over there)
aquellos, aquellas	those (over there)

Note:

The masculine singular demonstrative adjective is formed when aquello becomes aquel, which is similar to the masculine singular indefinite article (un), indefinite adjective (algún), and negative adjective (ningún),

MODELO:

¿Te gusta esta tienda?

Sí, me gusta esta tienda. Es mejor que esa tienda y aquella tienda también.

Aquí venden muchas cosas bonitas, ¿verdad?

Sí, como estos zapatos, estas sandalias, esas camisetas, y esa bata.

¿Quieres comprar algo?

Sí, quiero comprar aquel traje de baño y aquella gorra.

Bueno, prefiero este traje de baño aquí. ¿Lo compro?

Claro. Vamos a pagar en esta caja.

Bien, voy a pagar con esta tarjeta de crédito.

4.6.b. To be able to understand and use the demonstrative pronouns

¿Cuál reloj quieres comprar, este, ese o aquel?

The demonstrative pronouns look exactly like the demonstrative adjectives. They also work much the same way as the adjectives, except that they take the place of the noun.

In English, when we use the singular demonstrative pronouns, we usually say: "that one", but for the plural we usually just say: "these", not "these ones"

Pronombres demostrativos	Demonstrative Pronouns
este, esta	this one
estos, estas	these
ese, esa	that one
esos, esas	those
aquel, aquella	that one (over there)
aquellos, aquellas	those (over there)

Note:

In the recent past, a tilde was used on the stressed syllable to distinguish the demonstrative adjective from the demonstrative pronoun. In other words, the pronouns looked like this: éste, éstas, ésa, éstos, aquél, aquéllas, etc.). The rules have changed and this is no longer necessary unless there is the possibility of confusion. However, this is still very common and is not considered incorrect to put the tildes on demonstrative pronouns.

MODELO:

¿Cuál te gusta más, esta o aquella?

Prefiero aquella.

Necesito un vestido nuevo. Quiero comprar ese.

¿Quieres ir a este restaurante, ese o aquel?

¿Cuáles son tus pantalones favoritos, estos, esos o aquellos.

4.6.c. To be able to understand and use the neuter demonstrative pronouns

*¿Qué es esto?
Por eso tenemos que estudiar.*

When we do not know what something is, or when we are talking about a situation or an abstract idea, we use the neuter form of the demonstrative pronouns. Neuter forms do not reflect gender or number because they refer to something unknown.

Pronombres demostrativos neutros	Neuter Demonstrative Pronouns
esto	this
eso	that
aquello	that (over there)

Note:

Since the neuter demonstrative pronoun represents something that is unknown, it does not have gender or number. However, if you were to use a plural form for something unknown, you would use the masculine (estos, esos, aquellos).

MODELO:

*¿Qué es esto?
¿Qué es eso?
¿Qué es aquello?
Estas son mochilas.
¿Por eso estamos aquí?
Sí, estamos aquí para aprender.
¿Esto es un problema?
Sí, esto es un problema.
Aquello es horrible.
Sí, lo es.
¿Esto buscas?
Eso es todo.*

The following words are often used with all forms of demonstratives, because they represent similar distance perspectives.

Adverbios	Adverbs
aquí	(right) here
allí	(over) there
allá	(way) over there

MODELO:

*¿Quieres estos pantalones aquí?
No. Prefiero esos allí o aquellos allá.*

4.7: Para estudiar en casa

4.7 Learning Objectives:

- To be able to form the present participle and the present progressive
- To understand the uses of the present participle and present progressive
- To be able to use the present progressive with certain pronouns

Introduction:

In this section, we will focus on the present progressive tense. The present progressive is formed with the verb estar and the present participle. We will learn how to form the present participle and the present progressive tense. We will learn how the uses of the present progressive are different in Spanish compared to English. Lastly, we will learn how to use certain pronouns with the present progressive tense.

4.7.a. To be able to form the present participle and the present progressive

Estar is used to form one part of the present progressive in Spanish. The structure is similar to English. In both languages, we use the verb "to be" (estar) and the present participle (el participio presente). Here are a few examples:

Spanish	English
Estoy hablando.	I am speaking.
Estás comiendo.	You are eating.
Ella está escribiendo.	She is writing.

In both English and Spanish, there are two parts to the present progressive:

Language/2 Parts	Parte 1	Parte 2
Spanish	Estar	-ndo
English	To be	-ing

To form the second part, the present participle, we use -ando for -ar verbs and iendo for -er and -ir verbs.

Verb Type	Ending
-ar verbs	-ando
-er verbs -ir verbs	-iendo

Occasionally, the formation of the present participle will result in three vowels together. In these cases, the i is changed to a y.

creer → creiendo → creyendo
 leer → leyendo → leyendo

MODELO:

¿Qué estás haciendo?

Estoy estudiando el presente progresivo.

¿Qué está haciendo tu mejor amigo?

Está comprando unos guantes nuevos.

¿Qué está haciendo tu jefe?

Está leyendo un libro.

You can now form the present participle and present progressive for all the verbs you have learned so far. In fact, you can now form the present participle and present progressive for many more verbs that you have not even learned yet.

4.7.b. To understand the uses of the present participle and present progressive

In English, we often use the present participle as a noun, although we can also use the infinitive. In Spanish, we always use the infinitive; the present participle is NEVER used as a noun in Spanish. Consider the following examples.

Spanish	English
Me gusta esquiar .	I like skiing . / I like to ski .
Estudiar es importante. / Es importante estudiar .	Studying is important / It's important to study .

In Spanish, we use the present progressive ONLY to refer to actions that are currently in progress. In English, we sometimes use the present progressive for habitual actions and near-future actions.

Type of action	Example	Okay to use present progressive in Spanish?
currently in progress	I am studying now.	yes
habitual action	I am studying in the library everyday.	no
near future action	I am studying with her this weekend.	no

4.7.c. To be able to use the present progressive with certain pronouns

As you learned in 3.7 and 4.3, pronouns may be placed before the conjugated verb or attached to an infinitive. The following are direct object pronouns and pronouns from pronominal verbs.

MODELO:

¿Venden zapatos de tacón?
 Sí, los vendemos. ¿Quieres comprar zapatos de tacón?
 Sí, quiero comprarlos ahora.

¿Te bañas todos los días?
 No, pero voy a bañarme hoy.

If the phrase has a present participle, your options are the same as with the infinitive:

Before the Conjugated Verb	Attached to the Present Participle
Lo estoy buscando.	Estoy buscánd lo .
Se está vistiendo ahora.	Está vistiénd ose ahora.

Note:

When attaching a pronoun to the present participle, a tilde is required to maintain the original pronunciation (stressed syllable) of the word.

In the rare case that you combine a direct object pronoun with a pronominal verb, the "reflexive" pronoun comes first and they cannot be separated. Placement options are the same as above. Consider the following examples for Me pongo los pantalones verdes.

Before the Conjugated Verb	Attached to the Infinitive or present participle
Me los pongo.	---
Me los quiero poner.	Quiero ponérmelos.
Me los estoy poniendo.	Estoy poniéndomelos

To summarize:

If you have one verb, you have one option: the pronoun goes before the conjugated verb.

If you have two verbs, you have two options: the pronoun can go before the conjugated verb, or be attached to the infinitive or present participle.

MODELO:

¿Estás haciendo la tarea?
 Sí, la estoy haciendo. / Sí, estoy haciéndola.
 ¿Estás cepillandote los dientes? / ¿Te estás cepillando los dientes?
 Sí, me los estoy cepillando. / Sí, estoy cepillándomelos.

4.8: Para estudiar en casa

4.8 Learning Objectives:

- a. To practice interpersonal exchanges between a salesclerk and a customer
- b. To review what you learned in 4.1 - 4.8

Introduction:

In chapter 4, we focused on clothes, colors, certain verbs, demonstratives, and the present progressive. Before moving on to chapter 5, we will focus on conversational speech between a salesclerk and customer shopping for clothes, review chapter 4 language and culture topics, and complete the chapter 4 capstone project.

4.8.a. To practice interpersonal exchanges between a salesclerk and a customer

Do you get the following joke?

A Spanish-speaking man who spoke no English went into a department store to buy socks. He found his way to the menswear department where a young lady offered to help him.

"Quiero calcetines", said the man.

"I don't speak Spanish, but we have some very nice suits over here", said the salesgirl.

"No, no quiero trajes. Quiero calcetines", said the man.

"Well, these shirts are on sale this week", declared the salesgirl.

"No, tampoco quiero camisas. Quiero calcetines", repeated the man.

"I still don't know what you're trying to say. We have some fine pants on this rack", offered the salesgirl.

"No, no quiero pantalones tampoco. Quiero calcetines", insisted the man.

"These sweaters are top quality", the salesgirl probed.

"No, no quiero suéter. Quiero calcetines", said the man.

"Our undershirts are over here", fumbled the salesgirl, beginning to lose patience.

"No, no quiero camisetas. Quiero calcetines", the man repeated.

As they passed the underwear counter, the man spotted a display of socks and happily grabbed a pair. Holding them up he proclaimed: "Eso sí que es".

"Well, if you could spell it, why didn't you do that in the beginning?" asked the exasperated salesgirl.

The following is a dialog between a salesclerk and a customer. Read it out loud carefully. Practice pronouncing one side of the conversation and then the other.

- DEPENDIENTE: Hola. Bienvenidos a Diseños Marisol. ¿Cómo le puedo ayudar?

A. Chapter 4 Capstone Project

The clothes shopping skit is the culminating project for Chapter 4 - De compras. It will be a group project (groups of 2 students) and involve a dialog between a salesclerk and a customer. The project brings together everything you have learned so far, especially the vocabulary and grammatical structures covered in this chapter.

Materials- For this project you should use actual clothes as props. These items should be appropriate (not provocative) and can be yours or borrowed. You can also mention other clothes that are not physically present as props.

Mode of delivery- This presentation should be completed with a partner in class. You will have time during class to prepare, but you may also practice outside of class. No reading allowed, so be sure to practice your script.

Instructions - Prepare a script with a partner in which one of you is the salesperson and one of you is the customer. Please:

- Discuss purchasing a minimum of 3 types of clothing, for example, you might discuss: shoes, pants, and accessories.
- Compare 2 articles of each type, for example, you might discuss two pairs of shoes using comparisons of adjectives OR you might discuss the price of each item using comparisons of nouns (dollars), etc..
- Discuss the price of each, fixed or negotiable, and the method of payment, credit card or cash.
- Try to use as much vocabulary as possible, including clothes, patterns, materials, colors, object pronouns, indefinite and negative words, demonstratives, etc.
- Use real props, unless, for any reason, you prefer NOT to bring clothes to class, it is possible to bring pictures to appropriately represent them.

Content- Presentations should include the following information:

- Appropriate greetings and leave-takings
- Reasons for the purchase
- Comparisons of material, color, size, price, etc.
- Demonstratives to distinguish between the clothes.
- No reading, practice together to memorize or be able to improvise

5.1 Learning Objectives:

- To acquire vocabulary related to months and holidays
- To learn vocabulary related to seasons and weather
- To practice vocabulary related to sports and recreational activity

Introduction:

In this lesson, we will study months, seasons, weather, and activities. As with other vocabulary lists, remember to study each new noun with the definite article. Also, be sure to look up any additional words that you might need to describe weather and your own activities.

5.1.a. To acquire vocabulary related to months and holidays

The following vocabulary list includes all the months of the year. Study each one carefully. Pronounce them out loud and try to think of personally relevant dates within each month. Notice the similarities between the words in both languages. The similarities can lead to mispronunciations (in which they sound more like English), so be especially careful to use the Spanish sounds as you pronounce each one.

Los meses	The Months
enero	January
febrero	February
marzo	March
abril	April
mayo	May
junio	June
julio	July
agosto	August
septiembre	September
octubre	October
noviembre	November
diciembre	December

Note:

Just like the days of the week, months are not automatically capitalized in Spanish. Months and days of the week are capitalized according to other rules, like: being the first word of a sentence.

The following list features some holidays and celebrations in the US and the Spanish-speaking world.

Los días festivos	The Holidays
la Nochevieja	New Year's Eve
el Año Nuevo	New Year's Day
el Día de la Raza	Columbus Day / Hispanic Awareness Day
el Día de la Independencia	Independence Day
el Día de los Veteranos	Veterans Day
el Día del Trabajo / de los Trabajadores	Labor Day
el Día de Acción de Gracias	Thanksgiving
el Día de los Inocentes	April Fool's Day
la Nochebuena	Christmas Eve
la Navidad	Christmas
el Día de los Reyes Magos	Day of the Magi (Wise Men) / Epiphany
la Pascua / la Pascua Judía	Easter / Passover
Semana Santa	Holy Week
el Día de los Muertos	Day of the Dead
el Cinco de Mayo	the Fifth of May

Note:

Holidays are typically national and religious. Please look up any holidays that might be relevant to you (Janucá, Ramadán, etc.)

MODELO:

¿Cuándo es tu cumpleaños?

Mi cumpleaños es el 21 de enero.

¿Cuál es la fecha de hoy?

Hoy es el 15 de noviembre.

¿Cuándo es el Día de Independencia mexicano?

Es el 16 de septiembre.

¿Cuándo es el Día de Independencia americano?

Es el 4 de julio.

¿Cuándo es el Día de Acción de Gracias?

¿Cuándo se celebra el Día de los Reyes Magos?

Se celebra el 6 de enero.

¿Qué se celebra el Cinco de Mayo?

Se celebra la Batalla de Puebla, México, contra los franceses.

¿Cuándo es el Día de los Inocentes?

Es el primero de abril.

Note:

"Cuándo se celebra X" means "when is X celebrated".

5.1.b. To learn vocabulary related to seasons and weather

In this section, we will learn vocabulary related to seasons and weather. Weather depends greatly on region, but, for simplicity, we will often discuss stereotypical weather (i.e. snow in winter). As you say the seasons, think about where you are and what you do during that time of year.

Las estaciones del año	The Seasons of the Year
la primavera (marzo - mayo)	Spring (March - May)
el verano (junio - agosto)	Summer (June - August)
el otoño (septiembre - noviembre)	Fall / Autumn (September - November)
el invierno (diciembre - febrero)	Winter (December - February)

Note:

In English, "season" has a few additional meanings. "Season" can be a verb (to season food = sazonar) and for sports (season = temporada).

Weather expressions in Spanish are generally formed with the verb: hacer. You might think of it as "what's the weather doing". A few other Spanish verbs are also used to form weather expressions. Read the following out loud and, as you pronounce each one, try to visualize yourself or remember yourself experiencing that particular weather.

el tiempo	The Weather
¿Qué tiempo hace?	What is the weather?
Hace (mucho) calor.	It's (very) hot.
Hace (mucho) frío.	It's (very) cold.
Hace fresco.	It's cool out.
Hace (mucho) sol. / Está (muy) soleado.	It's (very) sunny.
Hace (mucho) viento.	It's (very) windy.
Hace (muy) buen tiempo.	It's (very) good weather. / It's nice out.
Hace (muy) mal tiempo.	It's (very) bad weather.
Llueve. / Está lloviendo. / llover	It's raining. / to rain
Nieva. / Está nevando. / nevar	It's snowing. / to snow
Está (muy) nublado. / Está (muy) nubloso.	It's (very) cloudy.
Hay (mucho) contaminación / humedad.	There's (a lot) of pollution / humidity.

Note:

Be careful with the intensifiers: mucho and muy. Mucho is an adjective that modifies a noun, like calor or frío. Muy is an adjective that modifies another adjective, like bueno or malo.

MODELO:

¿Qué tiempo hace en el invierno?

Hace frío y nieva.

¿Qué tiempo hace en el verano?

Hace calor y (hace) mucho sol.

Estamos en la primavera y por eso llueve mucho.

5.1.c. To practice vocabulary related to sports and recreational activities

You have already learned many verbs that represent recreational activities, like nadar, leer, bailar, jugar al fútbol, etc. Different verbs are typically associated with certain activities. Jugar and practicar are used with many sports (jugar al béisbol, practicar el béisbol). Pay attention to the verbs associated with each activity.

The following list of verbs represents additional recreational activities that you might participate in. Please look up any activities, not mentioned so far, which are personally relevant to you and add them to the list. As you pronounce each verb, visualize yourself or someone else performing that activity.

Los deportes y las actividades recreativas	Sports and Recreational Activities
el acampar / hacer camping / acampar	camping / to camp
el alpinismo	mountain climbing
las artes marciales	the martial arts
el atletismo	track and field

5.2 Learning Objectives:

- To correctly pronounce the sounds of the letters C and G
- To understand when to roll the letter R
- To practice the sounds of the letter X and review other letters

Introduction:

The focus of this section is pronunciation. In 1.2, we covered the sounds of all the letters and paid special attention letters that are particularly challenging to native English speakers. This will be a review of that information with a little more detail. Since this is pronunciation, be sure to practice speaking out loud throughout this section.

5.2.a. To correctly pronounce the sounds of the letters C and G

The letters C and G have something in common; each one has two sounds depending on the vowel that follows. The C sounds like the letter K and the G sounds like a G when in front of A, O, or U. Listen to the model and practice pronouncing these out loud.

	C	G
A	ca	ga
O	co	go
U	cu	gu

Here are some examples. Listen to the model and carefully pronounce each one. Focus on the sounds of the letters C and G.

	C	G
A	casa, mercado	gato, ganga
O	color, blanco	gorra, agosto
U	cuadros, pascua	guantes, agua

The letters C and G have different sounds when followed by the letters E and I. The C sounds like an S before E or I and the G sounds like an English H before E or I. Listen and practice these sounds.

	C	G
E	ce	ge
I	ci	gi

Here are some examples. Listen to the model and carefully pronounce each one while focusing on the sounds of the C and G.

	C	G
E	cero, calcetines	gente, agenda
I	cinturón, cocina	ginete, página

Note:

The pronunciation of the letter C refers to the most common pronunciation. There are others. In most places in Spain, for example, the C would sound like an English TH when coming before E or I, instead of an S. This is also the case for the letter Z. Listen to this dialect here. In short and in general, CE, CI, and Z sound like TH in Spain and S in Latin America. See the note on page 12.

In order to preserve the original sound of the letters C and G before the vowels E and I, we must change the spelling. Here are the spelling changes. Listen to the model and practice the sounds.

	C → QU	G → GU
E	que	gue
I	qui	gui

Here are some examples. Listen and carefully pronounce each one.

	C → QU	G → GU
E	qué, aunque	guerra, averigüe
I	quien, aquí	guitarra, alguien

In the above examples, the letter U is silent. Sometimes, with GUI and GUE, the letter U is not silent. This is called dieresis and is represented by two dots over the U. The two dots mean that the letter U is pronounced. Listen and practice the following examples while paying close attention to the dieresis.

GÜ+	diérisis	ejemplos
E	GÜE	ambigüedad, bilingüe
I	GÜI	lingüística, pengüino

5.2.b. To understand the sounds of the letter R

Among the most challenging for native English speakers are the sounds of the letter R. First of all, the Spanish R does not sound like the English R. It sounds more like the sound of the two Ds of the English words "added" or "ladder". It also sounds like the two Ts of the English words "little" or "butter". Of course, your dialect will affect how you pronounce those words, but the placement of the tongue, when pronouncing those English words, is closer to the Spanish R than the English R is.

Listen and practice the following words while paying close attention to the sound of the letter R.

RA	RE	RI	RO	RU	AR	ER	IR
cobrar	aire	abril	coro	bruja	hablar	comer	vivir
barato	libre	cripta	euro	cruz	diario	eterno	mirar
fibra	oreja	frito	faro	fruto	amar	hacer	sátira
hora	precio	mérito	ironía	grupo	araña	perla	unir
otra	hombre	varios	oro	virus	jardín	tejer	virgo

Sometimes the R is rolled. The muscles of the tongue do not produce the roll. The roll is produced by air flowing over the tongue, which causes the tongue to vibrate. It's like a raspberry, but on the inside of the mouth. Some native English speakers find this extremely hard to pronounce and they usually come up with strategies to mimic the sound. If you are one of those individuals, keep trying!

There are two common circumstances that require the R to be rolled.

- when the R is the first letter of the word (word initial)
- when there are two Rs together in the word

Here are examples of the two circumstances mentioned above. Listen and practice with special care to pronounce the R properly.

Word Initial	RR
raro	carro
reír	error
reina	gorra
rojo	torre
rubí	zorro

Note:

The R is also rolled after certain consonants (L, N, and S). These are less common. If a compound word is formed and the second word begins with R, it is written with two RRs (guardarropa, pelirrojo, saltarrocas, virrey)

Sometimes the R is the only difference between words that mean completely different things. The following list contains a select few of these words. Listen to the way they are pronounced and focus on the pronunciation of the R.

Español	Inglés
cerro / cerro	zero / hill, mountain
coral / corral	coral / farmyard, corral
coro / corro	choir / I run
hierro / hierro	I wound, I hurt / iron
para / parra	for / vine
pera / perra	pear / female dog
pero / perro	but / male dog
caro / carro	expensive / car
moro / morro	Moor, Muslim / snout, nose, mound
ahora / ahorra	now / he saves

5.2.c. To practice the sounds of the letter X and review other letters

The letter X has two common sounds.

The most common sound is the same as the X in English. It sounds like the combination of KS (exageración) or GS (examen) in English.

The other sound is like the H in English, which is similar to the sound of the medieval Spanish X. This spelling is usually a proper name. In some places the spelling has been modernized and in others it has been preserved.

X sounds like KS (or GS)	X sounds like H
exageración	México (sometimes spelled: Méjico)
examen	mexicano (sometimes spelled: mejicano)
saxofón	Oaxaca (sometimes spelled: Oajaca)
sexo	Texas (sometimes spelled: Tejas)
taxi	Xavier (sometimes spelled: Javier)

Note:

There are only a few words that start with X in Spanish. For those that do (like xilofón or xenofobia), the X is pronounced like an S (just like in English: xylophone, xenophobia). In some words derived from Indigenous American languages, like Nahuatl, the letter X is pronounced like the combination SH in English (Xela, Xocoyote).

There are a few other letters that you should review. As presented in 1.2:

- B and V have the same sound, like the English B
- H is never pronounced
- J is pronounced like the English H
- L sounds like the English L, except when there are two; LL sounds like Y in "yes".
- Ñ sounds like NY in "canyon" or NI in "onion"
- Z is usually pronounced as an English S, although it is pronounced as TH in certain dialects. See note on page 12.

Here are some examples. Listen to the model and practice the pronunciation of each consonant.

B	H	J	L	Ñ	V	Z
bajo	hola	abajo	llave	baño	vaso	abrazo
bien	hay	concejero	lluvia	cariño	activo	lápiz
biblioteca	hijo	ejemplo	ella	empeño	vivir	zumos
nube	prohíbe	jaguar	callado	ñoqui	veces	zapato
obra	búho	naranja	allí	niño	televisión	azul

5.3 Learning Objectives:

- To learn about the prepositional pronouns and their function
- To learn about the indirect object and the indirect object pronoun
- To learn the present tense conjugations and uses of the verbs dar and decir

Introduction:

In this lesson, we will cover the prepositional pronouns, the indirect object, and the indirect object pronouns. You will learn to recognize them and use them in different situations. You will learn the present tense conjugations of the verbs dar and decir.

5.3.a. To learn about the prepositional pronouns and their function

You have already seen prepositional pronouns, like (a mí and a ellos). A and all other Spanish prepositions are used with specific pronouns, called prepositional pronouns (the pronouns we use with prepositions). With all prepositions, including a, we can use proper nouns (Robert) or the equivalent subject pronouns (usted, él, nosotros, etc.). The only exceptions are yo and tú, which are replaced with mí and ti. Here is a list of all of the Spanish prepositional pronouns.

Singular	Plural
mí	nosotros / as
ti	vosotros / as
él	él
ella	ella
usted	ustedes

You have already used these pronouns with the preposition de. Here is a list of other Spanish prepositions that are commonly used with prepositional pronouns.

Español	English
a	to, at
alrededor de	around
bajo (de)	under
con	with
contra	against
debajo de	under, underneath
desde	from, since
detrás (de)	behind
en	in on, at

encima de	on top of
entre	between, among
frente a	before, in front of
hacia	until, toward
hasta	until, toward
para	for, in order to
por	for, by
según	according to
sin	without
sobre	about, on, upon, above

Note:

Prepositions are difficult in most languages. You will learn more about some of these prepositions in other sections.

MODELO:

Mi amiga camina hacia mí.

¿Quién está con ella?

María está con ella. Tienen algo para nosotros.

Mi amigo quiere jugar ajedrez contra ti.

Él habla mucho sobre ti. Según él, tú eres buen jugador.

A mí me gusta bailar con mis amigas.

Me gusta bailar entre ellas porque son muy divertidas.

When mí and ti are used with the preposition con, they form new words.

con + mí → conmigo	con + ti → contigo
---------------------------	---------------------------

MODELO:

¿Quieres jugar conmigo?

No, no quiero jugar contigo.

¿Puedo estudiar contigo?

Ella va a estudiar conmigo. ¿Quieres estudiar con nosotras?

Sí, quiero estudiar con vosotras.

5.3.b. To learn about the indirect object and the indirect object pronoun

You have been using the indirect object (el complemento indirecto) and the indirect object pronoun (el pronombre del complemento indirecto) with gustar since the first chapter (See 1.6). In order to identify the indirect object of a sentence, we ask "to whom" or "for whom" with relation to the verb. Consider the following examples in English:

Dancing is pleasing to me.

To whom is dancing pleasing?

To me.

"To me" is the indirect object of the sentence.

We sent the letters to the students of the class.

To whom did we send the letters?

To the students of the class.

"To the students of the class" is the indirect object of the sentence.

Note:

"We sent them the letters" can be written: "we sent the letters to them". In English, it's easier to identify the indirect object when the preposition is included.

Pay the bill for her.

For whom will the bill be paid?

For her.

"For her" is the indirect object of the sentence.

Here is an example in Spanish using the verb gustar.

A mí me gusta el libro.

¿A quién le gusta el libro?

A mí.

"A mí" es el complemento indirecto de la frase.

"Me" es el pronombre del complemento indirecto.

As we discussed in 1.6, in Spanish, we must use the indirect object pronoun whenever there is an indirect object with a verb. The object itself is only mentioned for emphasis (for example, when making a comparison) or clarification (for example, le can refer to: a él, a ella, a usted). Here are the indirect objects and indirect object pronouns.

Singular	Plural
a mí → me	a nosotros / as → nos
a ti → te	a vosotros / as → os
a él, a ella, a usted → le	a ellos, a ellas, a ustedes → les

Note:

The indirect object pronouns and the direct object pronouns are exactly the same, except for the third person forms (le and les).

Besides gustar, there are many other verbs that can take an indirect object (verbs whose action can be done "to someone" or "for someone"). The use of these verbs is similar to their use in English. Here is a list of Spanish verbs that are often used with indirect objects.

Español	English
comprar	to buy
contar	to tell / to count
entregar	to hand in
escribir	to write
explicar	to explain
hablar	to speak
mandar	to send
mostrar (ue)	to show
pedir	to ask for
preguntar	to ask (a question)
prestar	to lend
recomendar (ie)	(to recommend)
regalar	to give (as a gift)
servir	to serve
traer	to bring

The placement of the indirect object pronoun is exactly the same as the direct object pronoun. It is either: a) before the conjugated verb or b) attached to an infinitive or a present participle.

MODELO:

¿Ella te trae el libro?

Sí, ella me trae el libro.

¿Me compras unos pantalones nuevos?

Sí, te compro unos pantalones nuevos.

¿Quién te explica la gramática?

La profesora me explica la gramática.

¿Quién te sirve la cena?

Mi mamá me sirve la cena.

¿A quién le entregas la tarea?

Le entrego la tarea al profesor.*

¿A quién le mandas tarjetas postales?

Le escribo a mi familia.*

Voy prestarte un videojuego nuevo.

Estoy mostrándoles los pronombres del complemento indirecto.

Note:

With the indirect object pronoun, it is good idea to practice the three types of questions above:

1) ¿Sí o no?

¿Le sirves la cena?

Sí, le sirvo la cena.

2) ¿Quién?

¿Quién te manda regalos?

Ella me manda regalos.

3) ¿A quién?

¿A quién le entregas la tarea?

Le entrego la tarea a él.

5.3.c. To learn the present tense conjugations and uses of the verbs dar and decir

Two verbs that are often used with the indirect object pronoun are dar (to give) and decir (to tell). For example, whenever we use the verb dar, there is always an indirect object, whether we specifically mention it or not. Dar is irregular in the first person. Here is the present tense conjugation of dar.

dar: to give

doy	damos
das	dáis
da	dan

Decir is irregular in the first person, but is also a stem changing verb.

decir (i): to tell

digo	decimos
dices	decís
dice	dicen

MODELO:

¿Siempre les dices la verdad a tus padres?

Sí, siempre les digo la verdad.

¿Quién te dice la verdad?

Mi mamá me dice la verdad.

¿A quién le decís mentiras?

No le decimos mentiras a nadie.

¿Tus padres te dan dinero?

Sí, me dan dinero.

¿Quién le da regalos a tu novio?

Yo le doy regalos a mi novio.

¿A quiénes les dan regalos tus tíos?

Mis tíos les dan regalos a mis primos.

Note:

La verdad means "the truth" and mentiras means "lies".

5.4: Para estudiar en casa

5.4 Learning Objectives:

- To review direct and indirect objects and their pronouns
- To learn to use double object pronouns (direct and indirect together)
- To understand placement options of double object pronouns

Introduction:

In this lesson, we review what you have already learned about direct and indirect objects and their pronouns. This includes their function, the pronouns that replace them, and the proper placement of the pronouns. Then, we will learn the order of these pronouns when they are used together and, lastly, how to use them with infinitives and present participles.

5.4.a. To review direct and indirect objects and their pronouns

In 4.3, you learned that the function of the direct object pronoun is to avoid repetition; the direct object answers the question "what?" in relation to the verb. You learned which pronoun takes the place of which object, and how to properly place the direct object pronouns. You also learned about the personal "a". To review, here are the pronouns that take the place of the direct object (el complemento directo):

Singular	Plural
me	nos
te	os
lo / la	los / las

The direct object receives the action of the verb. The direct object and pronoun are almost never used in the same sentence.

MODELO:

Escucho la canción.

¿Qué escucho?

La canción.

La canción es el complemento directo.

La escucho.

When the direct object of a sentence is a specific person, we use the personal "a". The personal "a" is absorbed when the direct object is replaced with the direct object pronoun.

MODELO:

Veo a la profesora.
¿A quién veo?
A la profesora..
(A) la profesora es el complemento indirecto.
La veo.

In 5.3, you learned about the indirect object, the indirect object pronoun, and the placement of the indirect object pronoun. To review, here are the pronouns that take the place of the indirect object (el complemento indirecto):

Singular	Plural
a mí → me	a nosotros / as → nos
a ti → te	a vosotros / as → vos
a él, a ella, a usted → le	a ellos, a ellas, a ustedes → les

The indirect object tells "to whom" or "for whom" (or "to what" or "for what") in relation to the verb. The indirect object and pronoun can both be used in the same sentence.

MODELO:

Les digo la verdad a mis padres.
¿A quiénes les digo la verdad?
A mis padres.
A mis padres es el complemento indirecto.
Les digo la verdad.

Whenever there is an indirect object and a verb, the indirect object pronoun is required. The indirect object itself is not required, unless it is necessary for clarification or emphasis. In the following examples, the pronoun "les" refers to different indirect objects.

MODELO:

Les leo el periódico a mis amigos.
 Les escribo cartas a ustedes.

The placement of the object pronoun is very important. The direct and indirect object pronouns have the same placement options.

For the following examples:

lo = el periódico
les = a mis amigos

If the phrase has only one verb, your only option is:

Before the Conjugated Verb
Lo leo
Les escribo cartas.

If the phrase has an infinitive, your options are:

Before the Conjugated Verb	Attached to the Infinitive
Lo quiero leer.	Quiero leer lo .
Les voy a escribir.	Voy a escribir les .

If the phrase has a present participle, your options are:

Before the Conjugated Verb	Attached to the Present Participle
Lo estoy leyendo.	Estoy leyénd lo .
Les estoy escribiendo	Estoy escribiénd oles .

Note: When adding an object pronoun to the end of a present participle, we must add the tilde to preserve the correct stress of the word.

5.4.b. To learn to use double object pronouns (direct and indirect together)

You may recall from 5.3 that there are certain verbs that take indirect objects and pronouns. In most cases, these are the same verbs that will be used with the double object pronouns. For example, there are always indirect objects (explicit or implicit) with the verbs dar and decir.

MODELO:

Les doy regalos a mis hijos.
Mi hijo me dice el cuento.

With double object pronouns, the indirect object pronoun always comes first, and if both pronouns start with the letter "L", the indirect object pronoun changes to se (le → se or les → se).

MODELO:

Les doy regalos a mis hijos. → Se los doy a mis hijos.
Le dices el cuento a ella. → Se lo dices.

Here are the most common combinations of direct and indirect object pronouns:

me lo	me la	me los	me las te lo	te la	te los	te las se lo	se la	se los	se las nos lo	nos la	nos los	nos las os lo	os la	os los	os las

There are three types of questions that you should practice in order to master the double object pronouns:

- 1) ¿Sí o no?
- 2) ¿Quién?
- 3) ¿A quién?

MODELO:

¿Ella te trae el libro?
 No, no me lo trae.

¿Me compras unos pantalones nuevos?
 Sí, te los compro.

¿Quién te explica la gramática?
 La profesora me la explica.

¿Quién te sirve la cena?
 Mi mamá me la sirve.

¿A quién le entregas la tarea?
Se la entrego al profesor.

¿A quién le mandas tarjetas postales?
Se las mando a mi familia.

¿Vuestros padres os mandan dinero?
 Sí, nos lo mandan.

Note:

When the sentence is negative, the word no (meaning "not", which negates the verb) always goes before the object pronouns; No, no me lo mandan.

5.4.c. To understand placement options of double object pronouns

Whenever we use double object pronouns, they are always together and the indirect always comes first. You have already learned the placement options for individual direct and indirect object pronouns. The options are the same with double object pronouns.

If the phrase has only one verb, the pronouns always go before the conjugated verb.

MODELO:

¿Tus amigos siempre te dicen la verdad?
 Sí, siempre me la dicen.

¿Les prestas tu carro a tus amigos?
 No, no se lo presto.

¿Quién nos pide ayuda?
 Los compañeros de clase nos la piden.

¿Quién te escribe poemas románticos?
 Mi novia me los escribe.

¿A quién le envías el mensaje?
Se lo envío a mi amigo.

¿A quiénes le sirven la comida los meseros?
Se la sirven a los invitados.

If the phrase has an infinitive, the pronouns go before the conjugated verb or are attached to the infinitive.

MODELO:

- ¿Tus amigos te van a decir la verdad?
 Sí, me la van a decir.
 Sí, van a decírmela.
- ¿Quién nos puede pedir ayuda?
 Los compañeros de clase nos la pueden pedir.
 Los compañeros de clase pueden pedirnosla.
- ¿A quiénes necesitan servirles la comida los meseros?
Se la necesitan servir a los invitados.
 A los invitados necesitan servírsela.

Notes:

- Double object pronouns are attached to infinitives without spaces.
- As with placement before the conjugated verb, with infinitives, the indirect object pronoun always comes before the direct object pronoun.
- In order to preserve the pronunciation of the verb (stressed syllable), we always add a tilde to the infinitive when attaching double object pronouns.
- The indirect object may precede the pronouns or come after the verb.

If the phrase has a present participle, the pronouns go before the conjugated verb or are attached to the present participle.

MODELO:

- ¿Tus amigos te están diciendo la verdad?
 Sí, me la están diciendo.
 Sí, están diciéndomela.
- ¿Quién nos está pidiendo ayuda?
 Los compañeros de clase nos la están pidiendo.
 Los compañeros de clase están pidiéndonosla.
- ¿A quiénes están sirviéndoles la comida los meseros?
 A los invitados se la están sirviendo.
 Están sirviéndosela a los invitados.

Notes:

- Double object pronouns are attached to present participles without spaces.
- As with placement before the conjugated verb and infinitives, with present participles, the indirect object pronoun always comes before the direct object pronoun.
- In order to preserve the pronunciation of the verb (stressed syllable), we always add a tilde to the present participle when attaching double object pronouns.
- The indirect object may precede the pronouns or come after the verb.

5.5: Para estudiar en casa

5.5 Learning Objectives:

- To learn the form and function of AFFIRMATIVE informal commands
- To learn the form and function of NEGATIVE informal commands
- To learn to use informal commands with certain pronouns

Introduction:

For this lesson, we will focus on a new verb form, the commands (los mandatos). We will learn to use commands for tú. We will learn that there are some irregular forms. Also we will focus on using command forms with pronouns.

5.5.a. To learn the form and function of affirmative informal commands

What are command forms? Well, we use command forms all the time in everyday speech. When we fill out a form and someone says: "sign here", that is a command form. Notice how the subject is not specified in the example. The subject of most command forms is: "you". However, we do not normally use the subject pronoun.

Commands are known as the imperative mood (el imperativo) of speech. Using command forms does not mean that we are necessarily bossing people around. "Get out", "be good", "finish your homework" could be considered bossy, but "enjoy", "have fun", "eat at Joes" are also commands, but do not necessarily sound bossy.

There is a difference verb form (conjugation) for affirmative informal commands and negative informal commands. In this section, we will work on affirmative commands.

Most verbs, the affirmative command form is the same form as the third person singular form (él).

Infinitive / Third Person Form (él)	Affirmative tú Command	English
Hablar / Él habla .	¡ Habla!	Speak!
Comer / Él come .	¡ Come!	Eat!
Escribir / Él escribe .	¡ Escribe!	Write!

MODELO:

Come verduras.

Abre tu libro.

Lee la historia.

Escribe en tu cuaderno.

Descansa un poco.
Juega con tu hermana.
Pide permiso para salir.

There are a few irregular affirmative tú commands. Many of them are related to verbs with irregular yo forms.

Infinitive	Irregular yo form	tú command (affirmative)
ir	voy	ve
ser	soy	sé
tener	tengo	ten
venir	vengo	ven
salir	salgo	sal
poner	pongo	pon
decir	digo	di
hacer	hago	haz

MODELO:

Haz tu tarea.
Di la verdad.
Sal a tiempo.
Ten cuidado.
Pon tus libros en tu mochila.
Ve a la escuela.
Ven a casa pronto.

5.5.b. To learn the form and function of negative informal commands

In English, the affirmative commands are the same form as the negative commands. This is not the case in Spanish; there is an affirmative command form and a negative command form when the subject is tú.

The negative command forms are a bit more complicated than the affirmative command forms, but most verbs follow the same pattern. The pattern is as follows:

Steps	Hablar	Comer	Escribir
1. Start with the yo form	hablo	como	escribo
2. Remove the "o" at the end	habl-	com-	escrib-
3. Switch the endings (ar → er/ir) (er/ir → ar)	hable	coma	escriba
4. Add "s"	hables	comas	escribas
5. Negate the form	No hables.	No comas.	No escribas.

It may appear that there are extra steps, that you could just remove the ending from the infinitive and not start with the yo form. However, it is important to begin with the yo form, because irregular yo forms (tengo, pongo, hago, etc.) and yo forms for verbs with stem changes (perder, dormir, empezar, etc.) are the root of many of the command forms (and other forms too). Here are some examples:

Steps	Venir	Cerrar	Dormir
1. Start with the yo form	vengo	cierro	duermo
2. Remove the "o" at the end	veng-	cierr-	duerm-
3. Switch the endings (ar→er/ir) (er/ir→ar)	venga	cierre	duerma
4. Add "s"	vengas	cierres	duermas
5. Negate the form	No vengas.	No cierres.	No duermas.

This may seem complicated, but if you always start with the yo form, the steps are the same for all verbs.

There are two irregular forms for informal commands that you must memorize:

Infinitive	Negative tú Command
ir	No vayas.
ser	No seas.

Lastly, there are some spelling changes that are required for negative commands of verbs ending in -car, -gar, and -zar. (Watch out! The CarGarZar is a Pokémon, who threatens those learning to conjugate Spanish verbs!). In 1.2 and 5.2, you learned that the sound of the letters C and G change depending on the vowel that follows them:

- C sounds like English K in CA, CO, and CU, but sounds like English S in CE and CI
- G sounds like English G in GA, GO, and GU, but sounds like English H in GE and GI.

In order to preserve the original sound of the verbs, we must make some changes to some command forms. Study the following CarGarZar verbs:

Steps	Buscar	Pagar	Almorzar
1. Start with the yo form	busco	pago	almuerzo
2. Remove the "o" at the end	busc-	pag-	almuerz-
3. Switch the endings (ar→er/ir) (er/ir→ar)	busce*	page*	almuerze*
*required change	busque	pague	almuerce
4. Add "s"	busques	pagues	almuerces
5. Negate the form	No busques.	No pagues.	No almuerces.

*Incorrect form

In short, when we switch the endings to form negative command forms (and other forms), we must make the following spelling changes:

Car	Gar	Zar
c → qu	g → qu	z → c

No saques tu Nintendo Switch.

No toques tu guitarra.

No llegues tarde.

No pagues la cuenta.

No almuerces con ella.

No comiences a gritar.

5.5.c. To learn to use informal commands with certain pronouns

Now that you have learned the command forms, you need to know how to place certain pronouns. In general, the pronouns used with commands are direct and indirect object pronouns and the pronouns that are used with pronominal verbs (i.e. levantarse).

With AFFIRMATIVE commands, pronouns are attached to the verbs. With double object pronouns, the order remains the same as other uses (indirect always first, followed by direct).

MODELO:

Duérmete.

Cómpralo.

Hazlo.

Págala.

Mírame.

Escúchame.

Mándamelo.

Notes:

a) Unless the command is a single syllable word (pon, ten, haz, etc.), a tilde will be required to maintain the original pronunciation (stressed syllable) of the command form (hazlo).

b) With double object pronouns, even with single syllable commands, a tilde will always be required to maintain the original pronunciation of the command.

With NEGATIVE commands, pronouns always go before the command.

MODELO:

No te duermas.

No lo compres.

No me lo mandes.

No se la pagues.

Complete 5.6 Para Estudiar en Casa and 5.6 Para Practicar en Casa.

5.6: Para estudiar en casa

5.6 Learning Objectives:

- To learn the form and function of formal commands
- To practice formal commands with certain pronouns

Introduction:

For this lesson, we will continue to work on command forms, only now we will focus on the formal commands (usted & ustedes). Fortunately, they are similar to what you have already studied. Also we will practice using formal commands with pronouns.

5.6.a. To learn the form and function of formal commands

The function of the formal commands is the same as the informal commands; the only difference is that, now, the subject (which is most often not specified with commands) is usted or ustedes instead of tú. Remember that in most of the Spanish-speaking world, usted is the plural for both tú and usted, so we are actually covering the formal singular, and formal AND informal plural commands (ustedes). If you need to review, we covered different ways to say "you" (tú, vosotros, usted, & ustedes) in section 1.3.

The forms of the formal commands are similar to the negative informal (tú) commands. Basically, you follow the same steps, but you don't add the S.

Steps	Hablar	Comer	Escribir
1. Start with the yo form	hablo	como	escribo
2. Remove the "o" at the end	habl-	com-	escrib-
3. Switch the endings (ar → er/ir) (er/ir → ar)	hable	coma	escriba

If the subject is plural (ustedes), we add an N.

4. Add "N"	hablen	coman	escriban
------------	--------	-------	----------

With formal commands, the affirmative and negative commands are the same.

MODELO:

Hablen, pero no hablen inglés.

Always remember to start with the yo form, so that you get the correct irregular or stem change forms.

Steps	Tener	Recordar	Pedir
1. Start with the yo form	tengo	recuerdo	pido
2. Remove the "o" at the end	teng-	recuerd-	pid-
3. Switch the endings (ar → er/ir) (er/ir → ar)	tenga	recuerde	pida

If the subject is plural (ustedes), we add an N.

4. Add "N"	tengan	recuerden	pidan
------------	--------	-----------	-------

The same two verbs that are irregular in negative tú commands are irregular for formal commands.

Infinitive	Usted Command	Ustedes Command
ir	vaya	vayan
ser	sea	sean

As with the negative tú commands (See 5.5.b), you need to be aware of the CarGarZar:

Steps	Buscar	Jugar	Empezar
1. Start with the yo form	busco	juego	empiezo
2. Remove the "o" at the end	busc-	jueg-	empiez-
3. Switch the endings (ar → er/ir) (er/ir → ar)	busce*	juege*	empiece*
required change	busque	juegue	empiece

*Incorrect form

MODELO:

MAESTRO: Chicos, abran los libros a la página 67.

BEATRIZ: Maestro, hable más despacio, por favor.

MAESTRO: No empiecen los ejercicios todavía, esperen por favor.

BEATRIZ: Maestra, no grite, por favor.

MAESTRO: Vean la pizarra y busquen sus nombres. Trabajen en las parejas asignadas.

5.6.b. To practice formal commands with certain pronouns

Now that you have learned the formal command forms (and informal plural), you will learn to place certain pronouns. Fortunately, the placement of the pronouns is the same as the informal commands, attached to the positive command and before the negative command. Again, with command forms, we will mostly be using direct and indirect object pronouns and the pronouns that are used with pronominal verbs (i.e. vestirse).

With affirmative commands, pronouns are attached to the verbs.

Usted	Ustedes
Búsquela.	Ábranlos.

Note:

A tilde will often be required to maintain the original pronunciation (stressed syllable) of the command form.

With negative commands, pronouns always go before the command.

Usted	Ustedes
No la busque.	No los abran.

With double object pronouns, the order remains the same as other uses (indirect always first, followed by direct).

Usted	Ustedes
Cántesela.	Explíquenselo.
No se la compre.	No se lo expliquen.

Note:

With double object pronouns, a tilde will always be required to maintain the original pronunciation of the command.

Complete 5.7 Para Estudiar en Casa and 5.7 Para Practicar en Casa.

5.7: Para estudiar en casa

5.7 Learning Objectives:

- To learn about past tenses and to acquire related vocabulary
- To learn the preterit forms of regular verbs
- To learn the preterit forms of some important irregular verbs

Introduction:

5.7 will be a preview of one of the main topics of Spanish II, the past tenses. We will begin by looking at some past tense expressions and seeing how they are different conjugations, but can often be used interchangeably in English. We will focus on one of the tenses, the preterit (el pretérito). We will learn the regular preterit conjugations and some important irregular ones.

5.7.a. To learn about past tenses and to acquire related vocabulary

Here are some examples of past tenses in English:

- I went to the store.
- When I was going to the store, I saw my friend.
- I used to go to the store and I would buy Peanut M&Ms.
- I have gone to the store today.

Each one of these examples represents a different way of viewing past actions. Although all of these refer to the past, the way that we view them (communicate them and interpret them) is slightly different.

1. I went to the store.

The first example represents a simple completed action in the past. We might visualize this with a timeline and our view towards the past arriving at the end of an action. This is called a preterit action (viewed as complete).

2. When I was going to the store, I saw my friend.

The second example represents an ongoing action at the moment in the past that we are referencing. We might visualize this with a timeline and our view towards the past arriving sometime during the action. This is called an imperfect action (viewed as not yet complete).

3. I used to go to the store and I would buy peanut M&Ms.

The third example represents a repeated action (or habitual action) in the past. We might visualize this with a timeline and our view towards the past arriving sometime in a pattern of repeated actions. This is also an imperfect action (viewed as not yet complete).

4. I have gone to the store today.

The fourth example represents a recent completed action within a specific time reference. We might visualize this with a timeline and our view towards the past arriving at a completed action sometime within the specific time frame (in this case, "today"). This is called a present perfect action (completed recently in relation to the present).

In Spanish, just like in English, each one of these examples is expressed with a different verb conjugation. In English, however, some of the examples are interchangeable (i.e. using preterit forms (conjugations) to express ongoing or repeated actions).

In the following sections of this lesson, we will be learning conjugations of the preterit (el pretérito).

Here is some important vocabulary to use with the past tenses.

Spanish	English
ayer, anteayer	yesterday, the day before yesterday
anoche	last night
el lunes (martes, etc.) pasado	last Monday (Tuesday, etc.)
la semana pasada	last week
el fin de semana pasado	last weekend
el año (mes) pasado	last year (month)

5.7.b. To learn the preterit forms of regular verbs

Now let's focus on the forms of the conjugations. Here are the endings for regular -AR, -ER, and -IR verbs.

Subject Pronoun	-AR	-ER & -IR
yo	-é	-í
tú	aste	-iste
él, ella, usted	ó	-ió
nosotros	-amos	-imos
vosotros	-asteis	-isteis
ellos, ellas, ustedes	-aron	-ieron

Notes:

- Preterit conjugations of -ER and -IR verbs are exactly the same.
- All conjugations of first person singular (yo) and third person singular (él, ella, usted) require tildes, except for monosyllable conjugations, like vi and vio.
- The present tense and preterit tense of regular -AR and -IR verbs are the same, but the difference is clear from the context of the sentence.
- -AR and -ER stem changing verbs do not have a stem change in the preterit (pensar, piensan, pensaron), but some -IR stem changing verbs do (you'll study them in Spanish II).
- First person (yo) preterit conjugations for CarGarZar verbs have the same spelling changes as the command forms (busqué, pagué, almorcé); the pronunciation is different as indicated by the tilde.
- An unstressed i between two vowels becomes a Y (leer → leieron → leyeron)

Subject Pronoun	HABLAR	COMER	VIVIR
yo	hablé	comí	viví
tú	hablaste	comiste	viviste
él, ella, usted	habló	comió	vivió
nosotros	hablamos	comimos	vivimos
vosotros	hablasteis	comisteis	vivisteis
ellos, ellas, ustedes	hablaron	comieron	vivieron

MODELO:

Ayer, vi a mi hermana. Almorcé con ella y le conté la historia de mi amiga, Marta. Marta estudió español conmigo. Se graduó de la universidad en 2004. Después buscó trabajo como maestra. Vivió en San Diego y después se mudó a Los Ángeles. Me llamó la semana pasada para decirme que se casó con su novio. Le mandé un regalo y una carta. En la carta, escribí mis recuerdos de ella. Aprendí mucho de ella y me ayudó mucho. Una vez, leyó mi trabajo escrito para una clase y encontró todos mis errores. Mi hermana no conoció a Marta, pero ahora quiere conocerla.

5.7.c. To learn the preterit forms of some important irregular verbs

There are several irregular forms of the preterit conjugations in Spanish. You will study most of them in Spanish II. There are, however, some common verbs that will be presented now. We will start with IR, SER and DAR.

Subject Pronoun	IR & SER	DAR
yo	fui	di
tú	fuiste	diste
él, ella, usted	fue	dio
nosotros	fuimos	dimos
vosotros	fuisteis	disteis
ellos, ellas, ustedes	fueron	dieron

Notes:

- IR and SER have the same preterit conjugations, but the difference between IR and SER will always be obvious by the context. (fui and fue do not have tildes, because they are monosyllable words).
- Although DAR is an -AR verb, the preterit conjugations are the same as an -ER or -IR verbs (di and dio do not have tildes, because they are monosyllable words).

Some verbs in Spanish have a special stem for the preterit tense.

Infinitive	Special Preterit Stem
estar	estuv-
decir	dij-
hacer	hic-
poder	pud-
poner	pus-
querer	quis-
tener	tuv-
traer	traj-
venir	vin-

The preterit endings for these verbs are different than the regular preterit endings. They are all the same, regardless of whether they are -AR, -ER, or -IR verbs.

Subject Pronoun	Endings for Verbs with Special Stems in the Preterit yo	-e
tú	-iste
él, ella, usted	-o
nosotros	-imos
vosotros	-isteis
ellos, ellas, ustedes	-ieron

Notes:

- If the special preterit stem ends in the letter J (i.e. dij-, traj-, etc.), the letter I of the third person plural is dropped (dijeron, trajeron, etc.)
- The special preterit stem for HACER changes to hiz- for the third person singular (él, ella, usted) conjugation.
- There are no tildes for these conjugations

Study and practice saying the following preterit conjugations out loud.

ESTAR	DECIR	HACER	TENER	VENIR
estuve	dije	hice	tuve	vine
estuviste	dijiste	hiciste	tuviste	viniste
estuvo	dijo	hizo*	tuvo	vino
estuvimos	dijimos	hicimos	tuvimos	vinimos
estuvisteis	dijisteis	hicisteis	tuvisteis	vinisteis
estuvieron	dijeron*	hicieron	tuvieron	vinieron

*Please review the notes above.

MODELO:

Ayer estuve con mis primos. Fuimos de compras al centro comercial. Tuve que comprar muchos regalos para mi familia. En la tienda Marshalls, le compré una blusa a mi mamá. En la tienda Zara, le busqué un cinturón a mi padre, pero no encontré uno adecuado. Almorzamos en Chili's antes de ir al cine. Vimos Terminator 6 y nos gustó mucho. En la tarde, fui a la casa de mi amigo, Max. Hizo un pastel y lo llevamos a la casa de Jessica. Comimos pastel y salimos a bailar. Fuimos a la mejor discoteca de Arcata. Spanish I: Beginning Spanish language and Culture is an excellent digitally-free alternative to the high-priced college Spanish textbook and, being an open-access textbook, it affords instructors flexibility and versatility. It offers a comprehensive introduction to the study of the Spanish language as it affords students a solid foundation by guiding them through the learning process in a non-intimidating way. The explanations of the inner-workings of the language are clear and to the point, being very evident that the author never loses sight that the intended audience are learners at a beginning level with no or very little previous experience with the language. The presentation of grammatical points and vocabulary are short, well-paced, and followed by individual practice at home and interpersonal practice in class. These activities are well thought out and effective as to consolidate knowledge and use, both of which are recycled throughout the sections and chapters as students advance.
